Child's Skull Found In Garden In Ross

Dig Farther Advises Marin D. A.

The case of a well-weathered skull broke out into the open today in the very proper town of Ross.

Police Chief Joseph Regoni had a date to meet the skull this afternoon.

The skull's existence was reported yesterday to Ross police by Wallace Harper, whose Chinese houseboy, Z. S. Chang, uncovered it about three weeks ago in an opening between some trees in Harper's garden at 300 Upper Toyon drive. Chang was "doing a bit of weeding" when he found it, Harper said.

Chang did not dig any farther after he found the skull, Harper said. "I'll leave that to police," he added.

Informed of the find by the Independent-Journal, Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich said "somebody certainly should do a little more digging."

Weissich said his office, the coroner and sheriff should have been notified immediately of the discovery.

Chang's somewhat disconcerting find was taken to College of Marin by his son, John Chang, a sophomore at the junior college. It was examined by Dr. Paul Wilson, life sciences instructor, who advised the youth to notify police.

Wilson's opinion was that the skull belonged to a 10-year-old child and had been out in the wind and weather some 25 years, judging by its appearance.

Harper said he did not know if his property had been used for burials. He purchased it 15 months ago from the estate of R. P. Paoli, who died in Paris in 1951. Harper and his wife learned of the skull when they returned Saturday from a trip.

Chief Regoni said he probably would keep the skull in his office for awhile awaiting further developments. He said he did not plan to have any tests made on it to determine its age.

GRISLY FIND — The skull beneath is that of a Marin Indian, a permanent exhibit at College of Marin. The one being held was unearthed Saturday in the yard of the Ross home of Wallace Harper. It is believed to be that of a child of about 10, and to have been in the earth only about 25 years. It was to be turned over to Ross police today. (Independent-Journal photo)

IT LOOKED LIKE SNOW

Fiberglass Falls On Marina Village

Corte Madera's Marina Village subdivision looked as though millions of spiders had invaded it this morning.

Lawns, cars and rooftops were covered with silvery strands of fine material that glinted in the sunlight and shifted with the breeze.

The phenomenon was quickly explained. Fragments of fiberglass from the nearby luggage factory of H. Koch and Sons had fallen on the area in heavy amounts.

"My bedroom was full of the stuff!" said a Marina Village housewife who called the Marin County health department in alarm. "It looked like it was snowing."

The housewife, who declined to give her name, kept her children home from school for fear their lungs would fill with fiberglass.

William Desmond, director of sanitation for the health department, promptly assigned district inspector Maurice Scott to investigate.

"On the basis of his report," said Desmond, "I don't believe the fiberglass existed in sufficient amounts to create a health hazard."

He said a safety engineer at the luggage factory told Scott a filter unit had broken down. The unit is one of several which normally catch fiberglass strands from the cutting room.

"The Koch people have assured us the unit will be replaced today or tomorrow morning," Desmond said. "For the most part, they control the dust conditions in an admirable fashion

"If this condition continued for any length of time, we would be concerned and would take some action, but we feel they are cooperating 100 per cent."

Bolinas Area Reappraisal Is Completed

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced today his appraisers have completed the reappraisal of the Bolinas area, in keeping with the continuing reappraisal program adopted by the asesssor.

Several hundred letters have been mailed to Bolinas residents, informing them of changes in assessments on their properties. These changes will be reflected in the 1959-60 assessment roll.

Residents who assessments have been changed will have a chance to discuss the changes with a staff of appraisers, who will be at the Bolinas Community Center Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Sausalito area has already been reappraised.

Sausalito General Plan Wins Planners' Endorsement

The general plan for future development of Sausalito, authorized by the city council in December, 1956, received a unanimous endorsement of the city's planning commission last night and was forwarded to the council.

The action was taken after lengthy study by a three-man subcommittee of Planning Commissioners Richard F. Grambow, Rolland O. Simpson and Robert M. Walt.

The plan, proposed to be a guide for the city's development to 1985, was done by Pacific Planning and Research, with Sydney H. Williams as consultant. The finished plan was delivered to the city in January of this year.

Cost of the plan was $10,200, borne jointly by the city and the federal government.

Last night's meeting was chairmanned by Victor E. Hecht, recently returned from a European trip.

The commission's next meeting will be July 8.

Herter, Gromyko Meet, Salvage Collapsing Conclave

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers were reported tonight to have agreed to continue with the Big Four conference despite the latest Soviet proposal on Berlin, which they call an ultimatum.

The decision was taken after U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had conferred for almost two hours with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Herter reported on his converastion immediately to British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville and Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe of West Germany.

Emerging from the meeting Courve de Murville told newsmen:

"The conference is continuing. We will see how it develops from day to day."

Gromyko showed some signs of willingness to lower his price for ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin temporarily.

Herter and his colleagues had to find out, however, whether Gromyko was willing to lower the price enough to give further negotiation reasonable hope of agreement.

They were completely opposed to accepting the Soviet suggestion for a one-year deadline on a Berlin settlement, which the Russians could use to prolong the threat of a future blockade.

It was understood that the method of approach was to try to determine whether there were elements in various Western proposals on Berlin and in the unacceptable Soviet package plan of Wednesday which could be pulled out to provide a hopeful new basis for continuing the talks here.

Failing this, an early collapse of the conference was a serious possibility.

Gromyko denied Western charges that the Soviet proposal is a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum.

Other Soviet spokesmen said the one-year deadline is negotiable and indicated the Soviets might agree to a longer period of Western occupation. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin at a press briefing called on the West to make counterproposals so that the negotiations could proceed.

LAWNMOWER JOINS DODO AS MUSEUM PIECE

WEST COVINA (AP) — Got those lawnmower blues?

Then hark to the tale of Joe Mulree. Fed up with endlessly trimming front and back, he ripped out his lawns and replaced them with green gravel.

Nowadays on weekends, while neighbors whirr away, he reclines on a chaise longue beside his pool, sipping beer.

And his lawnmower?

In the center of his green gravel lawn he bricked off a diamond of white crushed rock. There, gloriously gilded, rests the mower—symbol of Joe's rebellion against suburban conformity.

Foster Named Juvenile Officer For San Rafael

Sgt. Louis Foster, 32, San Rafael police officer for nine years, will become the new juvenile officer to succeed veteran Joseph J. Brusatori.

Chief Charles J. Chiesa announced the appointment of Foster today. Former Juvenile Officer Brusatori has been promoted to captain. Chief Chiesa said he has not yet decided who would be elevated to sergeant to fill the post now held by Foster.

Foster lives at 54 Bret street with his wife and two daughters, 12 and 5. He attended Adeline Kent School and was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1942. After serving in the Army, Foster was a mail carrier in San Francisco for four years before joining the San Rafael Police Department in September of 1950.

He attended the San Francisco Police Academy and about seven Federal Bureau of Investigations training sessions held in San Rafael.

Chief Chiesa commended Brusatori for his work with juveniles for the past 10 years. "He was loved and respected by youngsters and their parents and friends," said the chief.

Last year, Brusatori was named "Man of the Year," by the Marin County Real Estate Board, largely for his work with San Rafael youngsters.

Novatan Arrested As Navy Deserter

Merle William Hanson, 19, of 681 Olive street, Novato, was arrested today at his home as a Navy deserter.

Deputy Sheriff Earnest Neilsen booked Hanson in county jail, where he was to be picked up by officials from Treasure Island.

A Federal Bureau of Investigation agent said the young sailor had been missing from Treasure Island for more than 90 days.

Many Injured In Boston Station Blast

BOSTON (AP)—More than a score of persons were injured in a terrific explosion of undetermined origin in the elevated structure of the Boston rapid transit system near the North Railroad Station today.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority, which operates the rapid transit system, said no one was killed.

20 IN HOSPITAL

Shortly after the accident the Massachusetts General Hospital reported that 20 persons had been brought in and others were still coming.

The blast ripped apart sections of the elevated structure and blew out windows in the railroad station about 50 feet away.

Rescue apparatus was used to pull people from the torn elevated structure.

MOST BURNED

The hospital reported that most of those brought in appeared to have been burned in the blast.

The North Station is the main terminal for the Boston & Maine Railroad. It is in one of the most heavily congested traffic and business sections.

It was believed that the explosion came during a welding operation on the elevated property.

Senators Report Red Peril In State

CITY COSTS TO GO DOWN IN SAN RAFAEL

City Manager Says New Budget Will Reverse Trend; Big Jump Reported For Last Year

San Rafael's city government should cost less for the 1959-60 fiscal year than for the year just ending, City Manager Dan E. Andersen said today.

If it does, it will reverse a trend of rising local government costs in San Rafael pointed up by a report today by the Bay Area Council which showed a whopping 57.7 per cent increase from the 1956-57 to the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The increase from 1957-58 to 1958-59 was nowhere nearly so large, declared Andersen, despite a program of major capital improvements.

The city manager has nearly completed a 1959-60 preliminary budget to present to the city council. It will total just over two million dollars, and will be slightly under the $2,094,000 in this year's budget, he said.

There were some unbudgeted expenses this year, Andersen noted. Largest item was $93,000 fora fourth municipal parking lot.

But, like other parking lot purchases which ran 1957-58 expenses far above the budget figure, the new purchase is not reflected in the tax rate, said the city manager. The parking lots are financed from a separate fund built up from parking meter revenues.

The Bay Area Council report, comparing costs of government in cities throughout the nine-county area, showed Sausalito with the greatest percentage increase from 1956-57 to 1957-58. The per capita cost of governing Sausalito more than doubled in the latter year, according to the report.

The only trouble with the figures, said Andersen, is that they are a year old, so don't reflect what happened in the fiscal year just ending.

PER CAPITA BASIS

The Bay Area Council breaks down the cost of city governments to a per capita basis. The state controller's report of financial transactions was used to obtain the figures on total expenditures. The council's own latest estimates of population were used in calculating per capita costs.

San Rafael's outlay for fiscal 1957-58 is shown in the report as $1,443,626. It was more than that. Andersen reported at the close of last year that expenditures totaled about $1,723,000.

ROSS COSTS DOWN

The Bay Area Council report shows per capita costs for Marin's incorporated cities higher in 1957-58 than the preceding year except in Ross, which had 6/10 of 1 per cent decline. No figure for 1956-57 was obtained from Belvedere.

The report lists the cost of city government per capita as:

San Rafael, $87.35 in 1957-58 and $55.39, up 57.7 per cent; Sausalito, $86.16 and $40.20, up 114.3 per cent; Belvedere, $77.78, no figure for preced-

State Allots $98,500 For Civic Center

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Public Works Board today approved a $98,500 expenditure from the state Fairs and Exposition Fund to assist in filling the new Marin fairgrounds and civic center site.

The funds will be used to compact fill in the low areas of the 140 acre site at Santa Venetia. The fill will be provided by the state Division of Highways from roadwork on Highway 101.

The state funds also will be used to pay cost of drainage work and floodgates to be installed at the same time.

Marin's Sen. John F. McCarthy appeared before the Public Works Board to make the request, backed up by a delegation from Marin County. Present were Supervisors Chairman Walter Castro, County Administrator Donald Jensen, Public Works Director Marin Brigham and Planning Director Mary Summers.

A contract already has been signed with the Division of Highways for the fill material and negotiations are scheduled to get under way immediately for compacting it and installing the flood control facilities.

Castro estimated work could start on the project by July 1.

Lagunitas School Board Sells 7-Acre Woodacre Property

Trustees of Lagunitas School District last night found a buyer for the district's seven-acre property in Woodacre, once intended for a school site.

The board voted 3-1 to accept the $21,500 bid of S. J. McKee, vice president of Lagunitas Development Corp. The district paid $18,500 for the property.

Mrs. Marietta Larsen cast the dissenting vote. Board President Leslie S. Stone, since his vote was not needed to break a tie, abstained.

A certified check for $3,000 was accepted as deposit, with the balance due within 60 days. Mrs. Maud S. Gardiner acted as real estate broker in the transaction.

McKee, speaking from the audience, said his firm had a one-year option to buy land also adjoining Lagunitas School.

Top Court Decisions Blamed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Senate Committee on Unamerican Activities today reported that Communists are working feverishly in California, aided by a series of U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

The committee's 10th biennial report did not criticize the Supreme Court as an institution, nor the judges as individuals — especially California's former governor, Earl Warren.

"To intimate that Chief Justice Warren is in any way subversive is simply foolish," said the report by the four-man group headed by Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno).

Nevertheless, the committee said, recent Supreme Court decisions are "eminently satisfactory to the Communist Party."

The 219-page report talked in general terms of Communist activities in California. It was in contrast to reports of previous years which contained long lists of names of alleged subversives and specific details of Communist activity.

The committee said:

The Communist Party is using "sleepers" who don't carry membership cards. The party has "insinuated their unknown members into strategic positions throughout our governmental and social structure."

Communists are infiltrating state institutions of higher learning, but not in mass proportions.

Too many educators, however, "stubbornly cling to the notion that somehow the Nazis

Senate Unit Shaves Beer, Race Tax Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved 81 million dollars in new or higher taxes but shaved 10 million dollars off the amount the governor was seeking from horse racing and the beer industry.

Sent to the Senate floor were four bills already approved by the Assembly which would:

Boost bank and corporation franchise taxes by $58,600,000 a year.

Raise inheritance taxes to distant heirs by eight million dollars annually.

Boost the present tax of two cents a gallon on beer up to four cents. Gov. Edmund G. Brown had asked a five-cent increase which would have netted the state 10 million dollars a year but the committee's action cut the tax yield to four million.

Increase the tax on horse racing by $10,425,000 a year. The governor had sought a $12,400,000 boost but finance adopted another committee's recommendation and cut two million dollars from the governor's request. As a result of the Senate's action, owners of race tracks will pay only $600,000 in increased taxes while the bettors will pay the rest.

FRONT DOOR PUTTING AT ROBIN HOOD MANOR

William J. Watt, president of Robin Hood Land Corp., tries out the nine-hole putting green just outside the front entrance of Robin Hood Manor, new $300,000 luxury apartment house at 2501-05 Sir Francis Drake boulevard in Fairfax. Getting set to trim the grass is Robert A. Roumiguiere, co-developer with Watt of the 36-apartment unit. Civic and business dignitaries and contractors were set for an open house and reception this afternoon. The public is expected Saturday and Sunday when the first model apartment will be open for inspection. The two story building housing one and two bedroom apartments provides, in addition to the putting green, a radiant-heated swimming pool, shuffle board, badminton, individual barbecues and a private beach on Olema Creek.

Air Inspection Of Proposed Park Scheduled

Members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County plan Saturday to fly over the proposed Pt. Reyes peninsula seashore recreation area.

Chairman Ernest Schallinger of Novato, said the committee plans fly from Commodore Aviation, which is making a plane available free of charge.

He said members of the board of supervisors also have been invited.

The committee last night heard George L. Collins of the National Park Service outline the plan. Collins said the project is only in the survey stage, and that he would suggest development as a seashore area.

He said that in 1935 a survey was made, and the National Park Service decided it should acquire the entire peninsula for a national park. Now, he said, the thinking is that the area should be developed similar to Cape Cod.

Collins said this would mean the government would not have as exacting control over the area, that small towns would be encouraged to stay, and that dairy lands would be left out of the plan.

Schallinger said that on July 8 the West Marin Property Owners Assn. will give its views on the recreation proposal, and that on Aug. 12, county officials will be asked to discuss the matter.

Both meetings of the committee are scheduled for 8 p.m. in one of the municipal courts at the courthouse.

LOOK BEHIND YOU, MR. MOOSE!

The U. S. Small Business Administration planned to make quite a ceremony yesterday out of presenting the Marin-Sonoma Small Business Investment Co. its license in San Rafael's Herzog-Rake building. The firm is the first licensed in Northern California under new federal legislation for small business loans. But Harold L. Moose Jr., executive vice president, was so busy on the phone (with requests for financing, maybe) that Joseph P. Wasserburger (left) chief of the investment division, and Edward L. Turkington, regional director, from the SBA office in San Francisco had to just put up the license themselves. (Independent-Journal photo by Dick Steinheimer)

Adopt $129,117 Budget For Lagunitas School

Lagunitas School District trustees last night adopted a $129,117 budget for the 1959-60 school year.

Of the total budget, $40,480 is to be financed by the school district's general tax rate of $2 per $100 assessed valuation.

Breakdown of the budget is: $10,675 for administration (including a new part-time secretary-bookkeeper); $84,820 for teachers' salaries, school supplies, county library and audio-visual contracts; $7,875 for operation of Lagunitas School plant and $4,775 for its maintenance.

State aid is estimated to total $75,390. This added to the tax money and balance on hand will finance the total budget of $129,117, according to Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

In other business, the board voted unanimously to authorize continuance of the state special milk program and to favor a proposed study of unification of elementary districts around Drake High School.

Superintendent Frye reported all teachers' contracts have now been turned in. He also reported that 43 youngsters have been registered for kindergarten next fall and estimated a total fall enrollment in kindergarten of between 55 and 60.

Frye reported returns of the questionnaire recently sent to parents showed a community interest in a summer program. However, after considerable discussion of the limited funds available and the problems involved, it was voted that consideration of this program be tabled indefinitely.

The board instructed Frye to study further the possibility of a foreign language and/or music program for the 1959-60 school year.

After adjourning to "executive session," the board reconvened and reported that the school custodian and bus driver would be offered contracts for the 1959-60 school year. Their salary schedules were amended so that a $25 a month raise could be given after the first six months service.

Stinson Trustees Explore Contract With Bolinas

Stinson Beach School District trustees last night discussed bus schedules and other matters involved in the new inter-district agreement with the Bolinas district, according to Mrs. Alvin A. Eustis, secretary of the Stinson Beach board.

She said the trustees plan to attend next Tuesday evening's meeting of the Bolinas board for joint discussion.

Trustees also continued their discussions of the preliminary budget.

Drunkenness, Jail Rampage Net Fine

Jack Watson Jr., 20-year-old former San Rafael brickyard worker, drew $75 fine yesterday for drunkenness in Fairfax and damaging county jail property last May 13.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court also put Watson on probation until Oct. 21, and ordered him to refrain from drinking and to make restitution to the county for out of pocket expenses for repair of a jail faucet which he damaged.

Pastor Visits Mother

Rev. Aldo Grasso, pastor of the Church of the Assumption at Tomales, this week left for Italy to visit his mother, who has been reported as suffering from a serious illness.

During his absence, two priests of the Oblates of St. Joseph at Tomales will be in charge.

A spokesman at the church said Father Grasso is expected to return to the church sometime in August.

Budget Meet Monday

Trustees of the Union Joint School District will hold a special meeting at 2 p.m. Monday at the school to discuss the 1959-60 budget and teachers' salaries, Mrs. Eleanor Pomi, clerk, said today.

She said the regular meeting, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was not held because of a lack of a quorum.

HAMILTON FIELD 'PIONEERS' — Sidney Miller, who came to Hamilton Field while it was still under construction in 1934 and served at the base 19 years as an Air Force enlisted man and a civilian employee, and Mrs. Miller will celebrate their golden wedding tomorrow at their Novato home. (Independent-Journal photo)

Novato Couple Marks 50 Years Of Marriage

A golden wedding will be celebrated tomorrow at 1100 Third street in Novato, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Miller.

Sidney Miller married Ethel Elliot, a New Hampshire girl, in Portland, Maine, 50 years ago. He had been stationed at Ft. Williams there for three years as an enlisted man in the Coast Artillery. The couple remained there for 17 years, until he transferred to the Army Air Corps.

During the next eight years, Miller was stationed at Langley Field, Va.; Wheeler Field, Hawaii, and March Field in California. In 1934 he came to Hamilton Field, which was still under construction. He was attached to the Service Squadron of the 7th Bombardment Group, the first organization permanently assigned there.

After five years of living on the base, Miller was retired as a master sergeant with 34 years military service. He began a new career in civil service, still at Hamilton. He "retired" again after 14 years, making a total of 48 years in the government service.

While her husband was on active duty at Hamilton, Mrs. Miller was instrumental in organizing the Non-commissioned Officers' Wives Club. This club honored the couple recently at a dinner dance at the NCO Club.

The Millers are active in the Methodist Church in Novato. They have no children, but keep busy with church and social life.

The benediction was offered by the Rev. Shozen Naito, acting bishop for Buddhist churches of America.

Harbor Loan Outlook Good For Larkspur

The Larkspur Recreation Commission is confident the city will obtain a $300,000 state loan by next January or February for development of a municipal small boat harbor, Chairman Orrin W. Gray said today.

Commissioners last night authorized preparation of more precise drawings of a 100-berth harbor proposed for a portion of city-owned marshland property along Arroyo Holon canal. The 43.8-acre property is between Magnolia avenue and Corte Madera Creek.

TO PREPARE LANDS

City Manager Ronald E. Piper will prepare the plans for eventual submission to the state Small Craft Harbors Commission, from which a loan will be sought.

Piper will go to Sacramento next week to confer with engineers on the commission's staff.

Gray said the city must convince the state commission that revenue from the harbor project would be sufficient to repay a loan.

"We are definitely optimistic," he said. "By January or February of next year we expect to have $300,000."

'NATURAL SPOT'

Gray, who is also on the city council, termed the Larkspur site "a natural spot for a small boat harbor . . . We feel we could fill it with boats tomorrow. A group from Sausalito already has asked if it could reserve a block of 80 berths at one time."

In other matters the Larkspur Recreation Commission:

1. Recommended that the city council reappoint commissioners John Barry and Dr. Ted F. Pett for three-year terms.

2. Accepted the resignation of Commissioner Mary Lou Campbell.

Twin Cities Bike Safety Program

The fifth annual bicycle safety program sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera.

Bill Gordon, recreation director, said the two-hour program will feature tests of skill, mechanical checks and bicycle safety awards.

A BIT REMOTE

Possibility Of Homes Atop Tunnel Is Seen

One of the most spectacular view properties in Marin—the hill over the twin Waldo tunnels—may someday be opened to real estate development.

Just how the property could be sliced up for a subdivision is a question that would take considerable study.

And the answer possibly is just as remote as the day when the land might be placed on public sale.

A total of 130 acres in the area, a part of Ft. Baker, recently was declared excess—not usable for defense, and was turned over to the General Services Administration for disposal.

Elmo Buttle, chief of disposal for the GSA in San Francisco, today described the land as straddling the Waldo tunnel, and including adjacent areas that run along the Sausalito city limits and an area along the Sausalito lateral.

Buttle said federal government agencies have first grabs on the land. If a government agency can't use it, then it can be declared surplus land and made available to local and state agencies.

If these agencies can't use the land (possibly for a school site, Buttle said, tongue in-cheek) then it can be offered for sale and hence return to the assessment rolls.

Discussing the possibility of a posh real estate development in which glass-faced houses would stare directly at San Francisco, Buttle remarked, "They are doing some wonderful things with bulldozers these days."

There was just the hint of the impossible in his voice as though the vision of Waldo tunnel mansions brought about noises of whirlybirds whisking commuters from hillside parking lots to San Francisco business houses, and background visions of housewives going to market via funicular railway.

Stone Can't Roll, Stuck In Sand

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Holley Stone got lost at 2 a.m. today and it took the combined efforts of other sheriff's deputies and the Highway Patrol to find him more than five hours later.

Stone's car became mired in sand while he was on routine patrol. He radioed for help, giving two oil storage tanks as his only landmark. Despite constant radio communication it was 6:45 a.m. when Stone's car was located 30 miles from the city.

The 300-pound deputy was hungry, tired—and disgusted.

Boats To Patrol Carquinez Strait

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Because of the big increase in pleasure boating on San Francisco Bay the Coast Guard announced it will conduct a special patrol in Carquinez Strait, where strong currents present a threat to transport craft.

The patrol will be made on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from June 12 to Sept. 21.

Four Coast Guardsmen from the Alameda base, manning a 50-foot picket boat, will provide search and rescue coverage.

Raises Given Workers In Dixie District

The 13 persons employed by Dixie School District as custodian, bus drivers and clerical help last night were granted pay raises of 4 per cent.

Dixie School District trustees also voted to employ Francis Ward, who has been teaching in Alaska for two years, at $5,400 a year to teach at the new Terra Linda intermediate school. They hired Mrs. Juanita Baker, a teacher in Phoenix, Ariz., at $4,500 to teach second grade at Silveira School.

They employed Mrs. Barbara Cain of Mill Valley at $315 a month as school secretary at the new intermediate school, and Miss Sondra Dennis of San Anselmo at $225 as a junior clerk in the district office.

Resignations were accepted with regret from Miss Lenore Vasche, sixth grade teacher at Silveira School, resigning for personal reasons, and from Mrs. Mary Howard, second grade teacher at Hoffman School, who said she was needed at home to care for her two children.

Harbor Developing Debated On KTIM

Radio discussion panelists, called together today to discuss whether Marin County is meeting the demand for small craft harbors, shifted more to the question of who should develop them: private interprise or the county and cities?

Speaking on station KTIM's Sounding Board were John H. Middleton of Sausalito, chairman of the county's harbor committee; Robert (Bud) Lowrie, owner of Lowrie Yacht Harbor in San Rafael; San Rafael City Councilman Fred E. Jensen, a boating enthusiast, and Jesper Strandgaard, who is working on an engineering and feasibility study for a small craft harbor in Mill Valley.

Strandgaard said the harbor facilities in Marin are not keeping up with the numbers of boats. "Existing harbors are packed full, but the formation of the state division of small craft harbors is attempting to help through loans that will be paid back from fees and rentals charged at the harbors," he declared.

He added that the study in Mill Valley was nearly complete and that he was sure that a harbor there is feasible. He said the project would be developed in two stages, with income from the first stage paying off the entire loan.

He did not mention the cost of the project but said the first stage would include construction of 11 berths, an administration building, a lounge and a fuel storage facility.

The second stage, he said, would involve construction of a clubhouse and 80 or more berths.

Strandgaard said the project could be built between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property and the Enchanted Knolls development.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

Lowrie said persons planning municipal operations should make sure first that private enterprise cannot handle the matter.

He said plans are being made to increase harbor facilities through private enterprise at Loch Lomond and at California Point.

"I feel there definitely is a need for the cities and the county to make possible developments where private enterprise cannot," said Lowrie. "But I feel private enterprise in most cases is doing a good job of keeping abreast of boating needs."

LAUDS MILL VALLEY

Jensen complimented Mill Valley officials for undertaking a study. He said he did not advocate a new small harbor for San Rafael, but wants a launching ramp and visitors' berths.

He said that he didn't think San Rafael officials in the past "have shown proper enthusiasm" for boating. "I you wait for private capital," he said, "I don't think you'll ever have enough."

Middleton traced the development of plans for harbors in Marin, but said the county is not interested in building harbors, but should only open major channels so cities can develop harbors. He said boating is a clean industry and one that brings added tax money to the county. "We don't have enough facilities," he said.

The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Jet fuel must be filtered so thoroughly that no foreign matter larger than five microns in diameter—.000195 of an inch—can get into the engine.

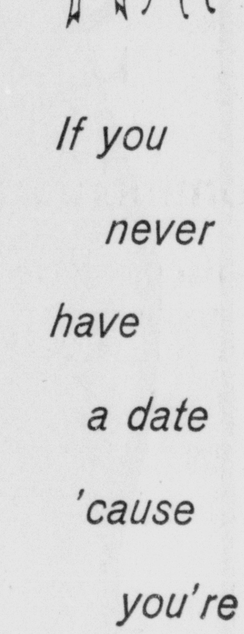

Unconscious 10 Days

Scott Fortner, 9-year-old son of Otroy Fortner of Marshall, remained unconscious today at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma—10 days after he was taken there from a motorcycle-auto crash on the Marshall-Petaluma road. The boy was a passenger on the motorcycle.

Commemorative Stamp Honors Pony Express

The Pony Express will carry the mail once more—via commemorative 4-cent stamp—on its 100th anniversary.

The stamp will be issued on next April 3, exactly 100 years after the Pony Express carried its first load of mail between San Francisco and St. Joseph, Mo.

Official word from the Post Office Department that the special stamp will be issued was received this week by Waddell F. Smith of 75 Margarita drive, San Rafael. His great-grandfather, William Bradford Waddell, was one of the three founders of the short-lived but colorful Pony Express.

The Pony Express ended after 18 months with completion of the trancontinental telegraph.

Smith, a retired Air Force colonel, is president of the National Pony Express Centennial Assn. Last year he headed local observance of the centennial celebration of the Butterfield Overland Mail.

The Post Office Department left the stamp design to the Pony Express association, Smith said. A painting by Julian Links of San Francisco, a composite portrait of the three founders of the Pony Express, will be submitted. Smith expects to receive the painting tonight. It shows his great-grandfather with the other two founders, Alexander Majors and William H. Russell.

The 1,966-mile route of the Pony Express was dotted with 190 stations between St. Joseph and Sacramento. The last lap of the trip to San Francisco was by river boat, but on the initial trip in both directions, not only was the mail loaded on the boat but the horse and rider were, too.

Alto-Richardson Fire Insurance Rates Drop

Home owners in the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection District can expect a reduction of about 8 per cent in their fire insurance rates, according to a notice received today by Sidney L. Chapin, chairman of the board of fire commissioners.

Sam E. Hays, chief engineer for the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau, wrote that the built-up portions of the district had been advanced from class six to Class five rating, resulting in the rate reduction.

"Home owners should consult their insurance agents," Chapin said, "to determine the effect on their policies." The change was effective May 15 for policies issued on or after March 15, he said.

Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr. said the built-up area includes Alto, Strawberry, Bay Vista Heights, strips along U.S. Highway 101, Bel Aire, Bayview Terrace and the Reedlands.

The rating change, Heynen explained, resulted from improvements in facilities, equipment, hydrants and personnel.

There have also been rate reductions of up to 22 per cent for the unimproved areas of the district, according to the notice.

"This reduction is in addition to the approximate 60 per cent drop granted when the district was put into operation in 1954," Heynen noted.

Sausalito Preliminary Budget Calls For $37,000 Hike, Same Tax Rate

Sausalito's preliminary budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year totals $383,000, some $37,000 higher than the current year, but City Manager Donald A. Duerr thinks that it won't be necessary to increase the present $1.25 tax rate.

Moreover, the city manager believes taxes can be cut for most Sausalito residents by reducing the ratio of assessment value to appraisal value from this year's 28 per cent to 25 per cent. (This would mean, for instance, that a property appraised at $20,000, assessed this year at $1.25 per $100 on $5,600, would be assessed for the new year at the same rate on $5,000 — an actual tax saving of $7.50.)

These points were in the preliminary draft of the budget which he forwarded to city council members yesterday.

The council's first discussion of the suggested budget is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the city hall.

The city manager pointed out that his conclusions are keyed to an estimated total assessed valuation of $12,575,000, compared with $12,222,590 for the current year.

Duerr, noting a steady decrease in the city's tax rate for the past three years, told the council he could not recommend a reduction this year "due to the unusually difficult financial problems confronting the city in the coming year."

Instead, he suggested the actual tax bills on properties appraised the same as last year be reduced by cutting the assessment percentage.

He noted that next year, it is planned to reduce assessments to 23 per cent so the county can take over Sausalito's tax collecting, now being handled by the city.

Duerr's lengthy study assumes the city's income will be increased by $15,500, derived chiefly from increased sales taxes and to some extent from accumulated gasoline tax funds. But he also sees an increase of $37,000 in anticipated expenditures. Included will be such items as $4,400 to start an employee retirement fund; $120,300 for land purchase commitments; $7,000 for repairs to the sea wall; extensive street repair projects; water main improvements; a replacement police car and other items.

In presenting his recommendations, Duerr noted that requests for funds exceed available money by $103,000.

"Inevitably," he wrote, "many worthwhile projects and programs had to be eliminated in the process of formulating a budget within the city's reach."

Old Plane Wreck Seen Near Sonora

SONORA (AP)—The Air Force said today it believes it has found the old wreckage of a military plane scattered on Quarry Peak, 19 air miles south of here.

The wreckage was surveyed from the air yesterday by the search and rescue division of Hamilton Air Force Base.

It was first believed that the wreckage might have been a small plane which disappeared May 2 with three Fresno businessmen aboard.

They were Kenneth Yerger, Jack Howell and Howard Laurain.

640 Register For Summer School Session

An enrollment of 640 is signed up for the summer session at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, Principal Bruce McDonald reported last night.

The session, for youngsters in the San Anselmo, Fairfax and Kentfield school districts, will run from June 24 to July 24.

McDonald said 95 per cent of the pupils had been assigned to classes they requested. Each will take at least three classes during the four-class sessions from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The San Anselmo trustees hired 16 teachers last night for the summer school. They also hired Mrs. Donna Momrow, Denver teacher, to teach 3rd grade at Yolansdale School in the fall, and Mrs. Tonya Rocha, now teaching near Eureka, to teach 5th grade at Isabel Cook School in the fall.

Resignations were accepted with regret from Mrs. Wilma Sisk, Sleepy Hollow 7th grade teacher, who is resigning for health reasons, and William Lemley, who is transfering from Cook School to Fairfax Central School. A leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Shirley Kielty, 6th grade teacher at Cook School.

The board took no action on a proposal to use three empty rooms at Sleepy Hollow School by transporting pupils from other schools.

The three trustees at last night's meeting, Dr. George Benoit, Robert Corlett and W. P. Duhamel, adjourned to June 24 at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School to take action on a 1959-60 teacher salary schedule. Supt. Harold R. DePue reported proposed legislation controlling state apportionments was given a "do pass" out of the Senate Education Committee yesterday.

CAN'T FEED SELVES

Consider Your Pets In Vacation Planning

By MEL L. MORSE

Making plans for the summer? The Marin County Humane Society asks that you consider your pets in your plans for vacation; don't expect them to feed themselves.

If you are planning to travel with your pet, remember most pets do not travel well and are not comfortable in strange surroundings. Many states and resorts have regulations covering the importation of animals, and some require definite inoculations.

If a pet is to go along with the family, it should be accustomed to traveling before starting the trip. A vacation trip is a difficult time to get Tabby cat or Fido dog used to travel. If they are not adaptable to the trip they could very easily hamper the enjoyment of the family and be miserable themselves.

HERE'S A HINT

Some helpful suggestions are:

Take your own feed and water dishes.

Take some bedding on which the animal is used to sleeping.

Try to avoid hot weather traveling.

Never leave the animal in the car unless there is provision for ventilation; leave the windows partly open.

Park the car in a shady spot.

Do not feed too heavily, and don't feed while riding.

Exercise your pet two or three times a day.

Be sure you have a license tag or identification tag, on the animal.

STAYING HOME

If you leave your pet behind:

Don't leave your pet at home and hope the neighbors will take care of it.

If your neighbors are caring for your pet, assure yourself that they are reliable.

Check early to reserve space in a boarding kennel.

Check carefully the facilities where you are to leave your pet.

Be sure you have proper identification on the animal and those responsible for it know where you can be reached.

NEW PET

If you are on vacation and find an animal:

Report to the nearest authorities.

Don't try to keep wildlife. They require a permit and they require special food.

If bitten by a strange animal report to and seek medical attention.

Don't adopt a pet just for the vacation period and then go home and leave it.

Regardless of whether you are at home or traveling, it is a good idea to see that fresh water is available to your pet—also a clean shady place where the animal can rest.

A pet's place is at home, not running the streets, chasing cars, bicycles, or playing on the school grounds. Care should be taken at all times to see that your pet is not allowed to be involved in automobile traffic. Case records of injuries caused by animals are too numerous.

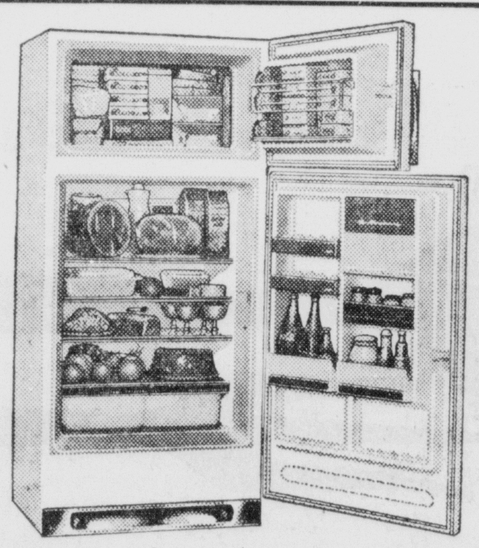

Animals used for our amusement, our livelihood and for our existence, deserve care and consideration. Everyone should accept personal responsibility in this regard.

Board Meets Tonight

Last night's meeting of the Marin Municipal Water District board was called off for lack of a quorum. The meeting has been rescheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock at 874 Fourth street in San Rafael, said B. J. Brusatori, secretary of the board.

40 Nicaragua Rebels Give Up, Will Go On Trail

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The government announced that more than 40 rebels surrendered today and are being brought to Managua, probably for trial.

These rebels raised a white flag last night and offered to give up their fight against the Nicaraguan government. They surrendered to the National Guard near Fruta de Pan (breadfruit), not far from Santo Domingo, in South Nicaragua.

The government demanded their unconditional surrender after rejecting an offer by the insurgents to get out of the fight if given safe conduct out of the country.

REBEL DISINTEGRATION

Encouraged by eye witness reports of rebel disintegration, the commander of Nicaragua's armed forces, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, said he thought the rebel force would surrender today. The men face trial, with nine-year prison terms the maximum penalty possible.

Two newsmen who visited the rebel band and brought out their spokesman, said 16 of the group refused to give up and marched off into the mountains to continue their defiance of General Somoza and his brother, President Luis Somoza.

BIGGEST CONTINGENT

According to government reports, the 16 holdouts are the biggest contingent still trying to fight the Somozas. Somoza claims anoher planeload of about 40 rebels who landed from Costa Rica nearly two weeks ago has been split into groups of twos and threes and is no longer a threat. Rumors of additional invasions have not materialized.

Despite the government claims and the eyewitness report, a Nicaraguan rebel radio heard in Honduras, said insurgents killed 86 Nicaraguan National Guardsmen in fighting for the town of Boaco, some 60 miles northeast of Managua.

Woman Senator Blocks Vote On AF General's Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) blocked a vote by the Senate Armed Services Committee today on the nomination of Air Force Lt. Gen. Emmett J. O'Donnell Jr. to be commander in chief of Pacific air forces.

She contended the general leaked information "calculated to smear her reputation."

After listening to her protest, the committee voted unanimously to call O'Donnell and Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas for testimony, probably next Thursday.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) told newsmen that Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) moved that the committee call the general and Douglas.

Sen. Smith has been feuding with O'Donnell for years.

Misnamed?

RUSSIA, Ohio (AP) — Not one of the 1,000-or-so inhabitants of this 106-year-old community can claim Russian blood. French immigrants settled the area, and a veteran of Napoleon's army named it Russia because of a resemblance to that country. Even the village's name is spoken with a French accent. Residents pronounce it "Rooshee."

Peaceful Coexistance? Soviet Girl, U.S. Student Try It Out

LENINGRAD (UPI)—An American student who took "peaceful co-existence" proponents so much to heart he married one said today, "We hope this proves that Russians and Americans can get along."

Thomas Hegarty, from West Roxbury, Mass., said he warmed up his cold war romance in a neutral language and then just up and married the girl—blonde, green-eyed Russian Luisa Tarasovna Ivanovna. Both are 23.

The Big Four Foreign ministers at Geneva were not consulted.

"By now, everyone more or less has accepted it," Hegarty told United Press International. "Nobody objected." But the May 25 Soviet civil ceremony "caused more than its share of gossip and tongue wagging," he said.

For Thomas and Luisa, love bloomed among the books of Leningrad University, where Hegarty is an exchange student and Luisa also was studying.

They met at a private party last fall, soon after tall, bespectacled Hegarty came to this beautiful city on the first U.S.-U.S.S.R. student exchange program.

They began dating steadily—ballet, movies, opera, dinners or just walks along the picturesque canals of Leningrad.

Thomas couldn't speak Russian, and English wasn't one of Louisa's four fluent languages. Their romance got going in Spanish.

Hegarty said he "thought very hard and waited a long time" before he proposed.

"I wanted to make sure . . . that marriage wouldn't cause trouble, that my wife would be able to follow me to the United States.

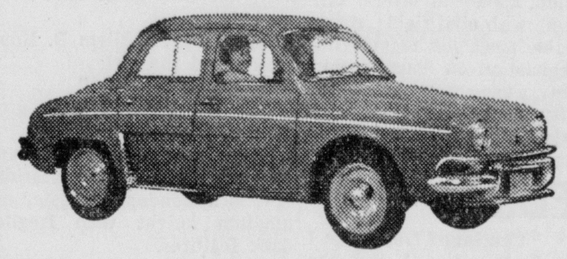

"But I'm the ony one inclined to worry about regulations. When I proposed she just said 'yes.'"

Air Cadet's Bride Dies In Honeymoon Crash

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — The teen-age wife of a member of the first graduating class at the Air Force Academy was killed yesterday in a car accident near this southwestern Colorado city.

Barbara Ann Barnwell, 18, of Denver, was dead when officers arrived. Driver of the auto was her husband, Lt. Lee Barnwell, 23, of Greenville, S. C. Their sports car struck a culvert and overturned.

Patrolman Herbert Luoma said Barbara was dead when he arrived at the scene. Passers-by were tending to her husband.

"I'm O.K.," he told the officer. "Take care of my wife."

"She's in good hands," Luoma replied.

Barnwell didn't learn until several hours later, in Mercy Hospital here, that his bride of six days died in the crash.

For four months before Barnwell's graduation, he had been confined to the academy grounds near Colorado Springs for breaking regulations on operating a personal car.

Barnwell was punished for driving a personal auto to Denver in order to see his fiancee after a minor operation.

The operation was shortly after they had met in the academy chapel.

"He took pity on a little girl with a broken foot," Barbara said last week. "I never believed in love at first sight until then, but I do now."

She suffered the fractured foot in a skiing accident. The operation was to correct the injury.

Her fiance was at her side as she came out from under the anaesthetic. He did not tell her he had broken academy rules about driving a car so he could be with her when she needed him.

He didn't see her again until graduation day. They were married the next day in Denver.

"I would stand on a hill and wave my handkerchief at him," Barbara said on the eve of the wedding. "He used a pair of binoculars to see me. Those were our dates."

Barbara took hope in April that King Hussein of Jordan would grant amnesty to Barnwell and other errant cadets upon the King's scheduled academy visit. Monarchs traditionally have that privilege when visiting U.S. service academies. But a snowstorm caused the monarch to bypass the academy.

The bride-to-be wired Hussein in Chicago, explaining her plight. He expressed sympathy for the young couple's cause, but was unable to return.

Dixie School Board Selects 2 New Sites

Dixie School District trustees last night gave a green light to two new school sites—one for a kindergarten through sixth grade school on 10 acres next to the new San Rafael high school in Terra Linda, and the other for a seventh and eighth grade school on 13 acres along Miller Creek on the west side of Las Gallinas avenue in Marinwood.

The three trustees at last night's meeting, however, objected to the shape of a proproposed 9.6-acre site at Lucas Valley road and Las Gallinas avenue in Marinwood for an elementary school. The trustees asked that the site by surveyed again.

Dixie School District is expected to have 2,000 pupils in the fall at its four schools. The two sites approved last night are for schools approximately three years hence. Supt. Dennie B. Willis will have appraisals made as a first step toward acquiring the two sites, the Terra Linda site from the Freitas Estate and the Marinwood site from developer Gerald Hoytt of Novato.

2 Brush Fires Set On Dunand Avenue

Two brush fires along Dunand avenue in San Rafael sent a city fire engine racing to the scene yesterday about 4 p.m. The blazes, which were approximately 150 feet apart, burned about eight square feet apiece. Both appeared to have been set, said W. B. Vaning, battalion chief.

A young boy reported the fires from the alarm box at Spring Grove and Greenfield avenues.

Demo Tells Of Gov. Brown's 'Triumph'

The first five months of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's administration have been a "fantastic triumph" for the Democrats, Tom Saunders, treasurer of the California Democratic Council, told about 50 members of Marin Democratic Assembly last night at Tamalpais Center Women's Club in Kentfield.

He said a major reason for the administration's success in the repeal of cross filing and the passage of a Fair Employment Practices bill was that the executive and legislative branches were working as a cohesive unit.

Trevor Thomas, president of the Friends Committee on Legislation, spoke on several bills dealing with civil rights, stressing the need for team effort in legislation on housing, minimum wage, repeal of the loyalty oath, and other civil liberty bills.

were foul and evil and the Communists much nicer."

The senators said the apathy of citizens, who believe the fifth column danger is ended, is the Communists' best weapon.

Besides Burns, the report was signed by Senators Nathan F. Coombs (R-Napa), John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), and John F. Thompson (R-San Jose).

The committee said it believes large-scale public hearings to expose known Communists are no longer necessary.

"To parade a somewhat moth-eaten series of dedicated party members through a hearing and afford them the facilities of radio and television publicity while they castigate the committee has become in our view largely a waste of time," it concluded.

But it said prevention of Communist infiltration must be fought with the most effective weapons—"an informed Legislature and an enlightened public."

Fairfax Barbecue Set

Fairfax Merchants Assn. yesterday made final plans for its annual steak barbecue, to be held in the Fairfax park on July 16.

Tickets will be available from members by next week. Proceeds will go toward civic improvement projects, said Mrs. Evelyn Benson, secretary.

Dinner will probably be served about 6:30 p.m. with Harry Cordone as head chef.

The merchants went on record in favor of repainting the pavilion.

Raped Coed Denies Claim Of Consent

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —A slim Negro coed testified softly today that she begged and wept in vain while four white youths raped her repeatedly last May 2.

"I was begging them to let me go," said the girl from the witness stand where the four youths are on trial for their lives. "I started crying and they said to shut up.

"There wasn't anything I could do with four men and a knife and a gun but do what they said to do."

Earlier the defense had claimed the 19-year-old university freshman made no protest, and may even have consented.

State Atty. William D. Hopkins asked the girl;

"Did you consent?"

"No sir, I didn't," the girl replied.

The girl, whose name cannot be publicized under Florida law, is a slender youngster of medium height with fragile dark features.

She testified in the soft, fluid accents of her native South while her hands nervously worked a handkerchief.

The coed testified that while she was being raped again and again in a dark stretch of woods her assailants removed the license plate from their car before leaving the area. She added that when they left she was blindfolded and forced to lie on the floor of the car.

The lawyer for Willian T. Collinsworth, 23, one of the defendants, told an all-male jury in his opening defense statement: "She stated 'you can have it if you want it, if you take me back to school'."

Atty. S. Gunter Toney added: "It is a close question whether or not consent was given."

The state has accused the four youths of forcibly raping the girl after abducting her at gunpoint from her Negro date of the evening.

As to how the girl ended up in the car with the four white youths, Toney said only:

"Through interplay one of the girls was in the car with the four boys."

State Atty. William D. Hopkins said he planned to get right into the major part of his case against the four, who would draw death sentences if convicted without a recommendation of mercy.

Selection of the jury was completed early last night.

Circuit Judge W. May Walker said he still was hopeful the case could be concluded by Saturday, since the jury was obtained the first day.

The defendants are William T. Collinsworth, 23, who is married and has two small children; David E. Beagles, 18, a stocky high school senior with sandy cropped hair; Ollie Stoutamire, 16, a frail, slender youth who dropped out of high school; and Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, a wiry Air Force man who lost both his parents at the age of seven.

Relatives of the four men sat behind them in the courtroom. Mrs. Collinsworth, who wore a white and pink sleeveless dress on opening day, told newsmen she was still standing behind her husband.

Sheriff Bill Joyce said all four boys admitted raping the Negro girl.

No white man ever has been electrocuted in Florida for raping a Negro. A recommendation of mercy accompanying a conviction could bring any sentence up to life at the discretion of the judge.

Parole is legally possible in such a case after six months. But Florida practice tends to force a rapist to serve at least 10 years of any life sentence.

$314,000 Dixie District Loan Granted

The Dixie School District has been authorized to borrow up to $314,000 from the state to build the new intermediate school off Las Gallinas avenue in Terra Linda, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said today.

Notification has come from the state Allocations Board, he said, that that amount in state loans is available for the project. Bids will be opened at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the superintendent's office.

The Dixie School board last night set a special meeting for 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the district office to take action on the bids. Also scheduled for the special meeting are adoption of a tentative budget, proposed as $783,000 for general operating expenses; decision on whether to hire a speech therapist, and discussion of the school district's part in Terra Linda-Marinwood recreation programs.

The allocations board yesterday granted $7,208 in loan entitlement to the district for furniture and equipment purchases for the Mary E. Silveira School and approved of a plan to convert one of the 17 classrooms there into a library.

Also approved by the state board were the district's plans to convert a temporary kindergarten room into a first grade room at the Santa Margarita School and convert one classroom into a library at Bernard Hoffman School.

Light Quake Felt In San Jose Area

Court Ruling Endangers Hoffa's Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa faces an unhappy choice today. Either way, his continued rule of the big Teamsters union is in jeopardy.

Under a new court order, Hoffa must either lead a thorough cleanup of his union or face a possible jail sentence for contempt.

If the tough-talking Hoffa espouses reform, bringing disciplinary and ouster proceedings against some of his closest lieutenants as ordered, he loses support of key men who helped him move to the union's top job.

If Hoffa continues to balk at union reforms—only recently he said there was no Teamsters corruption to investigate—he's bound to run into toils of the federal courts.

That is the dilemma facing Hoffa, 46, as the result of a U. S. Court of Appeals ruling yesterday. The court held unanimously that Hoffa and his union, the nation's largest claiming 1,600,000 members must knuckle down to reforms recommended by court-appointed monitors.

Obedience to reforms may include a union investigation of charges against Hoffa himself. The monitors have been holding off a batch of charges brought by union members against Hoffa, until monitor enforcement powers were cleared up.

Brown Approves Felon Assault Law

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed a law which makes it a felony for any state prison inmate to commit battery on any person not himself a prisoner.

The measure, by Marin's Sen. John F. McCarthy, eliminates the previous requirement that "malace aforethought" must be proved against the inmate and that the assault must be with a deadly weapon.

McCarthy said he introduced the measure to protect correctional officers and visitors to the prison from any kind of an attack by an inmate.

Economy-Minded Committee Scans Judges' Pay Raises

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to raise California judges' salaries headed for the dollar-conscious Ways and Means Committee today after another Assembly committee trimmed some of the proposed raises last night.

The version approved by the Senate would have given some municipal court judges raises of $6,000 a year.

The biggest increase left in the bill by Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) would raise the chief justice of the state supreme court from $24,000 to $28,000.

Miller offered the amendments to reduce the increases nd the Judiciary-Civil Committee then approved the bill.

As it now stands, the bill would raise:

Associate supreme court justices from $23,000 to $26,000. All appellate justices to $24,000. Presiding justices now get $22,000; associates, $21,500.

Superior judges in counties of more than 100,000 population from $18,000 to $20,000. Superior judges in smaller counties, now getting $16,500 or $15,000, would be raised to a blanket $18,000.

Municipal judges in cities with more than 250,000 population would be raised $1,500 to $18,000. In smaller cities, municipal judges now receiving $15,000 or $13,500 would be hiked to $16,000.

The bill would also mean raises to the attorney general and the supervisors of Los Angeles County.

The attorney general's salary always matches that of an associate supreme court justice. The Los Angeles supervisors are paid the same salary as that received by a Los Angeles superior judge.

Miller estimated the measure would cost the state $750,000 the first year the increases were in effect.

Strong Words Used As Tax Bill Debated

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Strong words are flying in the Legislature's complex battle over two rival tax assessment bills.

"Bribery," "criminal," "secrecy" and "unfair" all were used yesterday.

The two measures — by Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton) and Bert DeLotto (D-Fresno) — both passed the Assembly this week. That apparently leaves the choice up to the Senate.

Both bills repeal a 1949 law requiring equalization of assessment ratios. It has never been allowed to take effect by the Legislature.

The difference is that Coolidges bill requires counties to reveal their assessment ratios, while DeLotto's requires them to remain secret.

Coolidge charged DeLotto with "unfair tactics" in reviving his bill, claiming he had a gentlemen's agreement that the Coolidge bill would prevail.

DeLotto said he agreed only to withdraw his bill if Coolidge didn't seek to open the assessment ratios to public inspection. Open rolls give a "hunting license to the utilities," DeLotto said.

Coolidge charged DeLotto and his supporters with advocating secrecy in government. He said that if the books are opened up the utilities have agreed to drop pending suits to force equalization.

BROWN SAYS STATE BUDGET IN BALANCE

Sees 'Uneasy Balance' Next Year If His Tax Program Suffers No Further Trimming

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's finances are looking up.

Gov. Brown announced the state will close its 1958-59 books June 30 with a balanced budget. A 68 million dollar deficit had been anticipated.

The governor said, too, it now appears the 1959-60 budget may be in "uneasy balance" despite loss of his proposed oil-gas severance tax.

He said, however, Assembly rejection of that tax may leave the state with a 27 million dollar deficit for 1960-61.

All of the projections are based on legislative approval of Brown's remaining tax bills. Only an increase in personal income taxes has gone through thus far.

Brown issued his statement Wednesday after a huddle with Finance Director Bert Levit and a report that the finance department had guessed too low on state tax returns.

Levit, noting an upturn in business conditions, boosted the January estimate of forthcoming revenue by 2.3 per cent. This would mean an increase of 27.8 million dollars from existing taxes, and 4 million from the governor's tax program.

Excluding the oil tax, the rest of Brown's bills added up to 186 million for the first year as they went to the Senate Finance Committee. Some cuts were expected to be made by the committee.

Brown credited the balancing of the current budget to these factors:

1. Early collection of 55 million dollars in insurance company taxes under legislation voted earlier in this session.

2. A saving of 5 million dollars-plus achieved by what the governor termed a stringent economy program and the economic pickup.

As for 1959-60, Brown said a balanced budget depends on some ifs: if no more of his revenue bills are defeated, and if there is no steel strike or other economic reversal.

Levit, in his report, said there may be a carry-over surplus of 1.3 million dollars from the current year.

On the other hand, the governor cautioned that any economic downturn could result in a heavy deficit.

"Estimating within three per cent in either direction would be a first class performance," he said. "Yet three per cent can mean tens of millions of dollars."

He emphasized that the estimated deficit of 27 million dollars for 1960-61 considers nothing in the way of added services but does assume the extra costs of California's continued growth.

Honey produced from the blossoms of some species of Asian rhododendron is poisonous to man, but bees thrive on it.

Bill To Restrict Judges' Weddings Nears Passage

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation prohibiting judges from performing marriages for pay during the regular judicial work week has moved to within one, almost automatic step of passage.

The Assembly Judiciary Committee approved the bill, by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville), yesterday and placed it on the lower house consent calendar. The measure has already passed the Senate.

The plan was the result of an investigation which showed that some judges were spending more time performing marriages than they were hearing cases.

Bolinas Club Picnic Planned On Sunday

Final preparations for the Bolinas parents club annual picnic, to be held Sunday at Forest Farms in Forest Knolls, were completed at the club's Tuesday night meeting, according to president James Dougan.

Games, dancing and picnic lunches will be the order of the day, Dougan said. Transportation will be provided for those without cars.

Club members approved creation of a committee headed by Mrs. Ruth Scruggs to meet with a similar group from Stinson Beach looking toward coordinated activity next school year.

Members also agreed to help in the fund raising campaign of the junior museum of Marin.

Next meeting of the club will be Sept. 8, Dougan said.

House Probers Delay Hearings In California

More Work Needed On 'Extensive' Communist Activity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Francis E. Walter said today that scheduled hearings in California by House investigators have been postponed because Communist activities there are "so extensive and malignant" that further preliminary inquiry is necessary.

The Pennsylvania Democrat said hearings by the House Un-American Activities Committee, of which he is chairman, are being put off until "sometime in the fall."

The hearings, aimed primarily at alleged Communists in the teaching profession, had been scheduled to start in San Francisco next Wednesday and in Los Angeles on June 22.

"The ramifications of the Communist operation in California are so extensive and malignant," Walter said, "that additional investigative work must be done before the actual hearings can be held."

His terse statement did not elaborate. He had said earlier, however, that the inquiry was not an investigation of "schools or education" but of "Communist party activities" among teachers.

As many as 100 witnesses were scheduled to be called for testimony, mostly behind closed doors. They were said to include teachers from all grade levels.

Rep. Donald L. Jackson of California, top ranking Republican on the committee, later told United Press International that the investigation has "attained a magnitude we had not originally contemplated."

He said the witness list now included more than 100 persons and "leads" being followed by a committee investigator on the scene "disclosed there are more persons who should be called."

Jackson, just back from a 10-day trip to California, said, "unquestionably, we are going to take a lot of heat on the investigation and we are taking every precaution to make sure we are absolutely right with respect to every witness called."

Jackson said that although the hearings will be held in only two cities — San Francisco and Los Angeles — the scope of the investigation will be "statewide" and cover "quite a number of institutions."

Court May Revoke Teener's License Under New Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Juvenile courts have been given the power to revoke a teenager's driver's license for reckless driving, drunk driving, speeding or hit and run.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed into law a bill by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) giving the license control power to the courts.

Before Farr's plan became law juvenile courts could only recommend suspension or revocation of a minor's license to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Brown also signed another bill by Farr which would make it a crime for a person to falsely claim to represent a veteran's organization when asking for donations of money.

According to the National Bureau of Standards, women drivers use 10 to 20 per cent more road space than the average motorist.

Missing Girl Home After 10 Days In Reno Area; 'She Wasn't Herself'

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — "Everyone has been so wonderful," the wildly happy mother sobbed. "We just can't thank them enough."

Her 19-year-old daughter, Linda Millar, was returning home after a 10-day disappearance climaxed by her fathers written appeal to return, distributed to newspapers, radio and TV.

Her parents are mystery writers Kenneth and Margaret Millar. She is the couple's only child. The tall, dark-haired girl is an honor student at the University of California.

A psychiatrist who treated her recently said Linda is haunted by a feeling of guilt —she has been on probation since she killed an 11-year-old boy with her car three years ago.

Armand Girola, a private detective hired by the family, said the girl spent 10 days wandering aimlessly around Reno and northern California gambling resorts. She "just wasn't herself," he added.

Girola said the girl read the father's appeal in a newspaper and telephoned her mother Tuesday night. The father contacted Girola, who had been looking for the girl since Thursday. He picked her up in Reno Tuesday night, but declined to say where.

Girola said she was alone, and was overwrought with fears about repercussions at school and at home.

The detective said the girl went to a Lake Tahoe casino over the Memorial Day weekend with two men friends and started wandering after becoming separated from them. He said she vaguely remembers being helped by two persons but can relate little else about the 10 days.

The girl's father—who had been in Los Angeles following up a spurious lead—went to Reno to bring her home.

"I talked to her on the phone," Mrs. Millar said... "I don't remember what Linda said. Just that she was coming home. I'm so happy."

Linda's absence was first noticed when she failed to return on schedule to the UC campus at Davis, near Sacramento.

Researcher Wants To Dig 6-Mile Hole

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A Navy research scientist wants to dig the deepest hole ever dug. Where? He doesn't know. He is looking for an easy way through the earth's crust.

Dr. Gordon G. Lill, head of the geophysics branch of the Office of Naval Research, says a lot of scientists are excited about the hole he wants to drill, perhaps 6 miles deep.

Lill's project is known as the Mohoe Project. Simply explained, he wants to drill as deep into the earth as possible for samples of natural history not now available. Lill is among scientists attending the "Undiscovered Earth" conference of the Southern Research Institute.

The Mohoe Project will cost between 10 and 15 million dollars.

Lill wants a sample of 1,000 feet of mantle beneath the earth's crust. He believed this will answer many questions of the earth's origin.

For instance:

Have the oceans always existed?

Are the continents actually floating or shifting?

There are 54 mountains in Texas with an altitude of more than 6,000 feet.

Car In Ocean Plunge, Two Die, Three Hurt

HALF MOON BAY (AP)—An auto plunged over Devil's Slide into the Pacific Ocean surf eight miles north of here last night, killing two youths and injuring three others.

Highway patrolmen identified one of the dead as Roger Kachman, 15, whose brother Kenneth, 14, was taken to Peninsula Hospital in nearby Burlingame with serious head and chest injuries.

Skin divers were still trying today to recover the body of the other fatality, tentatively identified as John Clark.

Kenneth Annis, 17-year-old driver of the car, dragged three of his companions from the partly submerged vehicle, then scrambled up the cliff for help.

"God save my buddies," he cried as Richard Carpenter of San Francisco picked him up.

Annis said the lights on an oncoming car blinded him and forced him off the winding, narrow coast road 15 miles south of San Francisco.

"If Annis, who was bruised and dazed, hadn't climbed back to the road, nobody would have been saved because the tide was coming in," said Sheriff's Deputy Ray Douscal, who led rescue operations.

Annis was treated at Community Hospital in San Mateo for multiple cuts and bruises.

Taken to Peninsula Hospital in serious condition was Allan Appelbaum, 15.

Kachman, Annis and Appelbaum all lived at Hayward.

College Trustees To Study Budget

Marin Junior College District trustees tonight will take another look at the district's tentative budget of $1,061,435 for 1959-60.

The board meeting will start at 8 o'clock in Harlan Hall of College of Marin.

Also scheduled is a report by Harold M. Engle, San Rafael structural engineer, on plans and cost estimates for a new lighting system at the college football field.

Harbor Point Sewer Hookups Approved

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District Tuesday evening agreed to permit homes in the harbor point development to connect to district sewer lines even though several legal actions are pending in connection with sewer construction in the development.

Directors made it clear the approval would be reexamined after the legal actions are concluded.

THE VALEDICTORIAN WEPT

Negro, Once Rejected, Speaks At Graduation

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Alvin Loving, a Negro educator, whose invitation as commencement speaker first was rescinded under racial pressure and then reinstated after protests from high school pupils and teachers, was given a standing ovation as he stepped to the rostrum last night.

The class valedictorian discarded her prepared speech and, in tears, praised fellow seniors for their stand.

Loving, a faculty member of the University of Michigan's Flint branch, spoke to the 61 graduates of the all-white Flint Dye High School after the school board rescinded an earlier cancellation of his appearance.

The board first had bowed to pressure from citizens who objected to Loving as a speaker "because he is a Negro," said Glen Hutchins, a school trustee in the all-white suburb of Flint Township.

The board voted unanimously to reverse itself.

There was no incident as Loving stepped to the platform. Instead he was greeted by an ovation from the 1,000 persons at the commencement exercises.

Loving said "nowhere but in America is it possible for one to receive a reception like I received tonight."

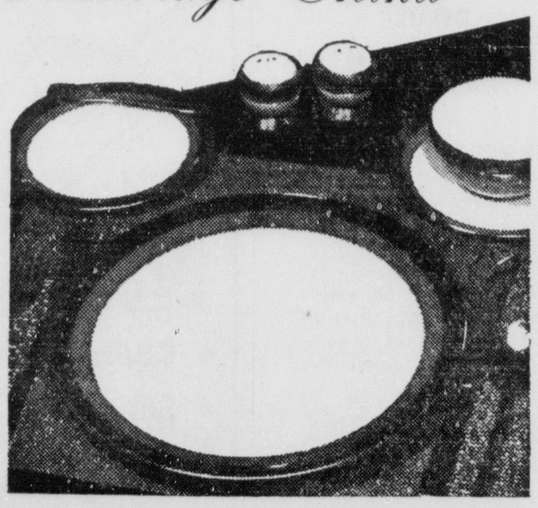

Blonde Beverly Newton discarded her valedictory address. Instead, spending hardly more than a tearful minute on the stage, Beverly told her fellow graduates: "I think we've all learned more than we realize and will remember it the rest of our lives."

Marin Cities Get $188,450 In Gas Tax Aid

The nine cities in Marin County have been apportioned $188,450 in state gasoline tax revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The money is for city street work and engineering. The revenue is from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of the state gasoline taxes paid by highway users, and is apportioned by the state Division of Highways from the state highway fund according to a population basis.

The allocation for engineering also is apportioned on a population basis, and is taken from other state highway funds, and varies from a minimum of $1,000 for cities of less than 5,000 population to a maximum of $20,000 for cities with more than half a million people.

A record total of $31,560,053 was apportioned to the 354 cities in the state. This is $1,132,401 more than last year's $30,427,625.

Cities and their gas tax apportionment in Marin are: Belvedere, $5,221.04; Corte Madera, $12,303.59; Fairfax, $13,776.21; Larkspur, $12,864.50; Mill Valley, $27,881.02; Ross, $7,097.32; San Anselmo, $30,865.33; San Rafael, $48,830.20; Sausalito, $14,611.25.

This is a total of $173,450.46. Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Larkspur, Ross and Sausalito each were apportioned $1,000 each in engineering funds; Mill Valley, $2,000; San Anselmo, $3,000, and San Rafael, $4,000.

Board Approves Plans Of Tiburon Yacht Club

The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4-0 Tuesday night in approving the Corinthian Yacht Club master plan. Supervisor William Gnoss was absent.

A night meeting had been set to give ample time to hear arguments for and against the plan.

The board previously had granted the club a use permit to construct pilings and a parking lot. This approval was made prior to the time the master plan was placed before the board for consideration, and because of this was opposed by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

The NWP also owns property at Tiburon Cove in which Milton Tonini of Ross has an instrumentality. Tonini also plans a yacht harbor in the area.

The NWP again objected Tuesday night on the basis that the club should wait until a master plan is adopted for the entire area.

However, it was brought out that a year ago, prior to the time the ordinance for planned commercial zoning was in effect, the club had already gained support from the board of supervisors and the planning commission for a master plan.

Subsequently the club went through the whole process of filing for a new master plan under the new ordinance, although it questioned the legality of being made to do so.

On Tuesday night, the board felt that to deny the master plan would show lack of good faith, especially since the club had acquired property and materials for a breakwater which is included in the plan.

The approval contains the restriction that the club must respect the water rights of adjacent properties.

Tentative San Quentin School Budget Passed

Trustees of the San Quentin School District Tuesday night adopted a tentative budget of $17,900 for the 1959-60 fiscal year, reported Joseph R. O'Brien, clerk of the board.

The board also voted a 7½ per cent raise to the school's two teachers.

The meeting date was changed to the second Wednesday of each month.

Appointment To Retirement Committee Is Postponed

A routine notification this week to the county board of supervisors that Supervisor William D. Fusselman's appointment to the five-member county retirement committee will expire June 30 was received without comment, the board postponing action until its June 30 meeting because Fusselman was absent.

Not visible on the surface is a recent controversy over how to finance improvements at the juvenile hall and at the hospital for elderly indigent persons in Lucas Valley. The board of supervisors will pay approximately 4¾ per cent interest to finance it under a lease-option plan. If the county used accumulated county retirement funds, the interest rate would be about 4 per cent, County Administrator Donald A. Jensen estimated.

Use of the retirement funds requires a four-fifths vote of the county board of spervisors and a uanimous vote of the retirement committee. If a county uses the retirements funds, by law it must pay ¼ per cent higher interest than returns from current retirement fund investment.

Supervisor Fusselman has voiced his opposition to use of the retirement funds to finance the Lucas Valley improvements. Architects' preliminary plans are to be submitted June 30 to the board of supervisors.

The other four members of the retirement committee are: M. F. Donohue, county tax collector and treasurer; John V. Bacigalupi, manager of the San Rafael Branch of Bank of America; and Floyd Middagh and Thomas W. Peryam, representing county employees.

Firemen Hear Plans

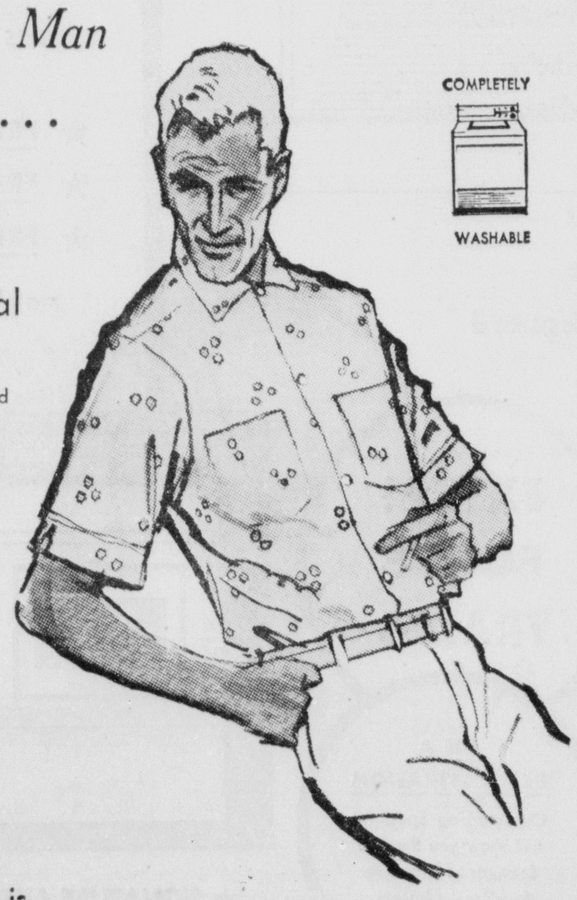

The Belvedere Volunteer Firemen's Assn. last night heard George Goddard, planning commission chairman, outline the proposed plans for the area adjacent to the fire house, according to president Stanley B. Dick.

Ann Curtis Opens Swim Club Here; Great Olympic Triumphs Recalled

Eleven years ago this summer a 21-year-old San Francisco girl wowed the sports world by winning two gold medals and one silver medal for the United States in the Olympic Games at London.

Ann Curtis thus established herself as one of the greatest swimmers in history, climaxing a brilliant career that saw her hold three world records, 38 American records, several French and Hawaiian marks and 29 national championships. She is the only American girl to win an Olympic freestyle race in the past 27 years. That was in the 1948 Games when, in addition to anchoring the victorious 400-meter relay team and placing second in the 100-meter freestyle, she won the 400-meter freestyle.

ANN CURTIS CUNEO

Ann Curtis also was the first American woman to crack the one-minute mark with a 59.4 seconds clocking in 1947 to equal the world record. Her name also is enshrined in the Helms Athletic Foundation's swimming Hall of Fame alongsideside the likes of Eleanor Holm, Gertrude Ederle, Helen Madison and Mrs. Katherine Rawls Thompson.

WE QUOTE these facts because Ann, now Mrs. Gordon Cuneo, is ready to embark on a new adventure right in our own backyard. On June 20 the brand new Ann Curtis School of Swimming will open at 315 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael—across the road from the Oliver Hartzell School.

It is a combination private membership swim club and school, a fast-growing business in Marin County. Heck, many folks like this kind of setup better than a pool in their own backyard. No maintenance, for one thing. And the prices are reasonable enough.

Another reason for the clubs' popularity, Ann believes, is that they are supervised and parents can be sure their little ones are in good hands.

ANN'S SCHOOL will teach all phases of swimming for all ages, including competitive swimming and diving, synchronized and water ballet. All phases will be supervised by by Ann and her staff of four assistants, including Bob Casce (former USC merman), Boone Morrison, Dennis Thompson and another to be selected. Ann, who spent 11 years swimming for the great coach, Charley Sava, preaches his technique and trains her assistants to use the same method. After the success it won her, why change it?

In teaching at Bermuda Palms and the Seminary pools in past seasons, Ann discovered that four is the right age to start learning to swim. "Youngsters are nearing the kindergarten age then and are adventurous. Five and six are ideal ages for learning," she went on, "because they're used to instruction in school and really want to learn. "My own children taught me a lot about teaching," she laughed. Bill Cuneo, now 9, wasn't so hot for the water at first, but now he is an accomplished swimmer. So are Carol, 7, and Sue, 4½. But David, 2½ months, will have to limit his aqua career to the bathinette for some time yet.

THE CURTIS school has an instruction pool, 20 by 50 feet and 2 to 4 feet deep especially designed for teaching. Then there is the unique T-shape main pool, Olympic-size — 75 feet in length with a diving area separated from the swim area. This pool also includes the only underwater view window in Marin County which will enable her to study and correct strokes, racing starts and turns and synchronized swimmers' water ballet stunts.

DURING A chat yesterday Ann admitted the 1948 Olympics, naturally, was her greatest thrill. She also recalled it wasn't so easy to achieve such success as she had to practice six hours per day for months before the Games. Keep this in mind if you plan to be a competitive swimmer.

After her great amateur success she joined a professional aqua show which proved quite enjoyable to her until the promoter dreamed up an odd-ball act in which she was to race an honest-to-goodness seal. It wasn't bad enough that she was "scared to death" of the creature, but also she couldn't possibyl beat it in a race.

She assures us there won't be any seals in her new pool. But knowing Ann's excellent background, her students will be able to swim like them.

Kirkland Continues Sizzling Bat Spree

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Those slugging San Francisco Giants, who have crashed 49 hits and scored 26 runs while on a three-game hitting jag, sent Jack Sanford to the mound today in an attempt to make it three out of four over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bill Rigney's belters, playing without Willie Mays for the second straight game, hit a seasonal high last night as they got 19 hits off six Pirate hurlers. They almost needed all of them as they won the affair 11-7.

Sam Jones, who was the victim of all the Pirate scoring, was credited with his seventh win against five losses.

Willie Kirkland continued his hot batting with three blows, three RBI's and a two-run homer to spark the Giants at the plate along with just about everyone else. Orlando Cepeda socked his 14th homer and elevated his average to .344, third highest in the National loop.

Jackie Brandt collected four hits while Jim Davenport and little Hobie Landrith each banged out three safeties.

The Pirates put a scare into the Giants in the seventh inning when they knocked Jones out of the box by scoring five runs and closing the gap to 10-7. Rigney called on little Stu Miller who came in to squelch Pittsburgh the rest of the way.

The win gives the Giants a 6-5 record for the current road trip and they are only a game behind the Milwaukee Braves. The Giants have averaged 6.6 runs per game and 11.4 hits during the trip.

M.V. LITTLE LEAGUE

The Tigers defeated the Braves 5-2 last night in the Mill Valley American Little League.

CHAMPS IN SLUMP

Did Braves Goof In Conley Deal?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

For all their pitching depth, maybe Milwaukee's Braves made a mistake when they ended Gene Conley's rebellion by peddling the right-hander to Philadelphia.

They've lost seven of their last 12 games, with only three complete games from their staff in that span. And last night they lost their second in a row, 5-2 at St. Louis, reducing their National League lead to one game while Conley was beating Los Angeles 2-1 with a four-hitter.

Conley, who was peddled after an 0-6 season because he refused to quit his winter job with professional basketball's champion Boston Celtics, has lost as many as he's won (3-3), but that's not bad for a pitcher with a last place club.

While the Braves continued to stumble, second place San Francisco closed in with an 11-7 victory at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

Conley gave up nothing but singles, walked only one and struck out two in a duel with loser Danny McDevitt (3-6) and Clem Labine. The Dodgers scored in the fourth when Junior Gilliam singled and came around on Wally Moon's single and a double play.

The Braves scored in the first two innings on home runs by Hank Aaron (16) and Del Crandall (8), but the Cards came from behind for three unearned runs in the fifth on an error, Manager Solly Hemus' pinch double and two-out two-baggers by Gino Cimoli and Bill White. Bob Rush (4-2) was the loser.

Alex Kellner (2-1) was the winner with Lindy McDaniel's relief help over the last four frames.

Newell Possible Candidate For Washington Cage Post

SEATTLE (AP) — George Briggs, athletic director at the University of Washington which is shopping for a new basketball coach, admitted today that California's Pete Newell is a possible candidate.

The Washington job was left vacant Monday when Tippy Dye resigned to become athletic director at the University of Wichita.

Newell, whose Golden Bears won the NCAA basketball crown this year, and Briggs, former assistant athletic director at California, are close personal friends.

"There is nothing of a concrete nature," Briggs said. "Pete and I are close friends and it is only logical that I would discuss the Washington situation with him.

"Of course, I would be delighted to have a man with his national reputation at Washington, but could I get him?"

Newell, in Berkeley, said he "had feelers" from Washington, but no firm offer. He said he hadn't considered the Washnigton job seriously.

Briggs said his talks with Newell, via telephone, have been of a general nature, with no offers made.

"I wouldn't make an offer to Newell before talking with Greg Englehard (California's athletic director). School-to-school courtesy would demand that I do, particularly when California and Washington are in the same conference (the Big Four)."

Briggs said that during his conversation with Newell he had asked the California coach to recommend someone to fill the vacancy.

"I talked with Newell just as I talked with Tippy, to get ideas," Briggs said.

Cerutti Team In Upset Over S.R. League Leaders

Cerutti Brothers team last night upset the previously-undefeated Kiwanis Club, 8-6 in a San Rafael American Little League thriller.

In other recent games Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop downed the Elks 13-11 and the San Rafael Fire Department 3-2 while the Kiwanis edged the Fire Dept. 4-1.

Team standings: Kiwanis 5-1-1, T&B 4-2-0, Cerutti Bros. 4-2-0, Fire Dept. 2-6-0, Elks 1-5-1.

Giants' Bay Boy Beaten By Gang

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roy McKercher, 15-year-old bat boy for the San Francisco Giants, is in a hospital for treatment of a kidney injury suffered when fellow high school students attacked him.

Roy, a sophomore at Polytechnic High School, said he was attacked yesterday as he sat in a soda fountain booth.

After he returned home, his father, Roy D. McKercher, took him to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital. Physicians said the boy's kidney was damaged and there was internal bleeding.

Patrolman Wassil Rolovich said Roy was struck after refusing a small change shakedown attempt. They youths that attacked him were not caught.

FOOTBALL AND GOLF — John Brodie, left, quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, who has qualified for the U.S. Open golf championship, talks with his tutor, Bob Rosburg, also an Open competitor, after a practice round at Winged Foot Golf Club. Brodie says he finds no conflict between golf and professional football. Rosburg plays out of Palo Alto, Calif., and Brodie from San Francisco.

Good Chance For Amateurs In U. S. Open

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Trying to pick the winner of the 59th National Open Golf Championship starting today is as useless as trying to hit a gnat with a peashooter.

There are so many unpredictable factors involved in the 150-man field that such an able and neutral observer as Jimmy Demaret said the 72-hole championship offers the greatest opportunity for an amateur victory since Bobby Jones stumbled in to tie Al Espinosi 30 years ago, then drubbed his pro rival in a 36-hole playoff.

Jones also won the next year en route to his Grand Slam of taking the British and U.S. Open and amateur titles. Since then only one amateur, Johnny Goodman in 1933, has won the Open crown.

No one, least of all dapper Demaret, really expects an amateur to win.

"But I look for an amateur to be in there with a chance to win when they start the final round Saturday," Demaret said. Demaret chose not to compete this year.

BEN, SAM FAVORED

"Of course, man against man, you can't pick anyone to beat Hogan and Snead," he said. But Charlie Coe U. S. amateur champion is one of the best golfers in the world. And Deane Beman (British amateur titleholder) and Bill Hyndman (runnerup to Beman) are good golfers. They play as much golf as the pros—more than I do—so what's the differences?"

There's the weather, hot and humid, ailments afflicting several star players, and the tightly trapped, 6,873-yard, par-70 Winged Foot west course, which has permitted some amazing scores in practice round.

It could be the year when someone smashes Hogan's 11-year-old championship record of 276 or one when a 283 or 284 score is good enough to take the $10,000 first prize.

Coe, had a 65 on the west course yesterday, but called it a freak round in which he was playing badly and driving far out into the rough.

Gene Littler, a favorite of many, had a 66, which he said was his only good score in three days here. Sam Snead has clipped 12 strokes off par in six practice rounds.

Some of the other players who have drawn special attention include Mike Souchak, a former assistant to Winged Foot pro Claude Harmon, who knows the west course very well; Don Whitt, who has been a hot streak lately; 1952-champion Julius Boros, whose skill at playing out of deep traps should count; two-time champion Cary Middlecoff and the defender, Tommy Bolt.

Colavito Ties Gehrig Mark With 4 Consecutive Homers

Leads Indians To 11-8 Rout Of O's Sox Regain Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe you remember last year's All-Star game. There were power guys aplenty, Banks and Aaron and Mantle, Berra, Mays and Thomas, Jensen and Cerv, Skowron, Williams, Triandos and Kaline—yet a record was set when no one got an extra-base hit.

The game was played at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

It's the toughest home run park in the majors. In the five years it has been a big league ballyard, only seven visiting sluggers had hit as many as two home runs in one game there. No one had hit three in one game.

Yet that's where Cleveland's Rocky Colavito tied a major league record last night by becoming the eighth player ever to hit four in one game. He also became only the third to do it with successive shots, tagging drives of 360, 400, 400-plus and 425 feet as the Indians blasted the Orioles out of the A.L. lead 11-8.

18 FOR SEASON

Colavito, 25, now has hit 18 for the season, one behind league leader Harmon Killebrew of Washington. These were his first of the year against the Orioles and they came against three right-handed pitchers. Colavito, a right-handed slugger who should "prefer" lefty pitchers, has hit all but three of his 18 off right-handers.

With Baltimore jolted loose from a deadlock, Chicago's White Sox took a one-game lead in the A.L. by beating Washington 4-1. New York climbed above .500 for the first time since April 25 by defeating Kansas City 6-4, gaining control of fourth place by one percentage point over Detroit, despite a 10-9 Tiger victory at Boston.

SIX RBI'S

Colavito, who walked in the first inning, drove in six runs and scored five with his 4-for-4 explosion. His homers—for a total of 105 in a five-year career—came in the third with one on, against loser Jerry Walker (4-3); in the fifth (bases empty) and sixth (one on) against Arnie Portocarrero; and in the ninth (bases empty) against Ernie Johnson. Three reached the left field bleachers, the other went over the left-center field fence.

Only Lou Gehrig of the Yankees (1932) and Pat Seerey of the White Sox (1948) had hit four in one previously in the A.L. Six have done it in the National League with Boston's Bob Lowe (1894), the first, and Gehrig the only ones to hit four in succession.

The Indians finished with six homers which were good for all but one of their runs. Minnie Minoso and Billy Martin hit the others the seventh for both.

Right-hander Gary Bell (5-5) was the winner with Mike Garcia's help in a four-run seventh.

WIN FOR WYNN

Early Wynn (8-4) gained his first complete game in five starts for the White Sox, beating the Senators with a five-hitter. A hit batter and an error by catcher Hal Naragon, allowing Al Smith to score while attempting an inside-the-park homer, gave the Sox two runs in the first inning against Hal Woodeschick (0-1).

Elston Howard's two-run double clinched it for the Yankees as they scored four in the seventh. It was their 11th victory in their last 13 games and a third in a row. Art Ditmar (4-4) was the winner against Bud Daley (5-4).

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Uncle Mike Says Major League Owners A Bunch Of Big Bullies

CONNOLLY

My Uncle Mike wants me to write a letter to Ford Frick, High Commissioner of Baseball about the mean way major leagues are swallowing up the minor leagues. Territorial rights to boot.

Uncle Mike says major league baseball owners are a lot of big bullies.

"What the hell right has a big league club to televise ball games into a minor league city during the same hour that the minor league city has its own ball game?" Uncle Mike asks me. "It kills the minor league gate."

From what Uncle Mike can gather, the big leagues are camping on the door step of every town of any size and explaining they should listen to big league ball, so as when the city grows up they'll know how they play major league style.

"I guess I shouldn't defend the little guys like the minor league," Uncle Mike was saying, "because I never had any luck with little squirts.

"I'm remembering what happened to me once," says Uncle Mike.

"THIS LITTLE GUY wasn't any bigger than a pipsqueak but he kept getting outta line and finally I said to him, in my gentlemanly way, to shut up or I'd punch him in the nose. The little squirt looked at me and replied that he would punch me in the snoot. I said he couldn't hit me in a hundred years.

"And mind you, this little squirt jumped up and wham, he hit me on the nose, jumped back down off the davenport and hid behind the couch. And every so often he would jump up from behind the couch and whach me on the beak again."

My Uncle Mike said it was a cowardly way for a little guy to fight a big guy.

And he sez a big guy is a chump to fight a little guy because if the big guy wins everybody says, "Why didn't he pick on a guy his own size" and if he loses, everyone says, "serves him right, the big bully."

ANYHOW, the other night in a fit of despondency, my Uncle Mike takes a stroll, trying to forget the argument whether the majors are trying to swallow up the minors. Pretty soon someone nudged him and the first thing he knows he is in Shanty's beer parlor and everybody there is talking about the S.F. Giants.

One guy spoke up and said the Giants were tramps, stupid ball players and should bunt oftener.

Uncle Mike resents anyone talking derogatory about the Giants.

"What is your nationality?" asks Uncle Mike of the big guy popping off.

"I am a Russian," the big guy says, and Uncle Mike replied, "One Finn is as good as seven Russians." And then the fun began.

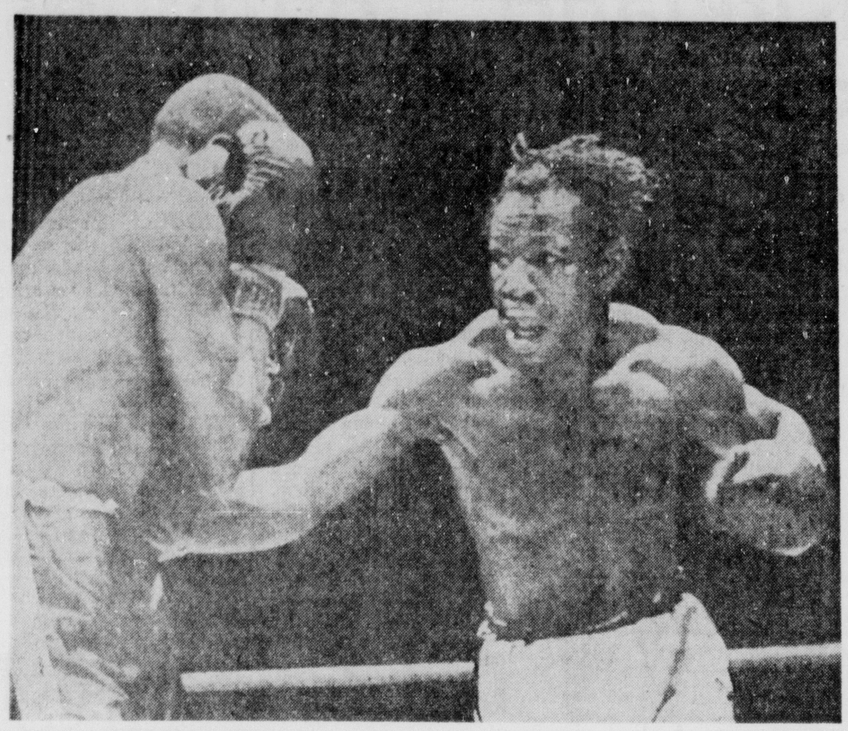

Mr. Shanty's place suddenly goes dark and there is a lot of confusion because everybody seems to be angry at everybody else. When the lights go on again the Russian fellow explains that he is known as the "Russian Lion," rassler, but his real name is Finnigan.

SO WHEN they changed the bandages on Uncle Mike's head the next day, he remembered what started him on his nighttime rampage.

"Those major league teams are to blame for my plight," Uncle Mike was saying.

"They make me so mad. All the time they keep talking about a third major league and, between you and me, there aren't enough major league players to fill up two major leagues we now have."

I told Uncle Mike I didn't know, but he still kept asking me how a guy named Finnegan was known as a "Russian Lion" among rasslers.

OLYMPIC MEETING

Brundage May Quit In Wake Of Controversy

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI)—International Olympic Committee (IOC) President Avery Brundage said today he might retire from his job once the dust has settled on the controversial ousting of Nationalist China from the IOC.

Brundage's eight-year term will expire next year. The IOC wants him to continue in his job, Chancellor Otto Mayer of Switzerland has said.

But Brundage has his doubts.

"Some personal questions are pressing," said the 71-year-old Chicago businessman. "Besides, I sometimes feel I could do much more for the Olympic movement by retiring from the presidency and writing some books on Olympic philosophy."

TWO-WEEK ROW

Brundage made the statement after two weeks that were marked by a worldwide controversy over the IOC's decision to withdraw recognition from the Nationalist Chinese Olympic Committee until it has changed its name to Formosan Olympic Committee "or something suchlike."

Although he would not admit it, Brundage seemed to be considerably hurt by the attacks of the U. S. State Department and others on his organization for alleged interference with political problems.

"We have been widely misunderstood," said Brundage.

"All we did was to take exception to the name of the Nationalist Chinese Olympic Committee. That was merely applying our rules and has nothing to do with politics. Nobody can claim that the Formosan committee really represents Chinese sports. It represents sports on the island of Formosa.

"All we ask is that the Nationalists change their name. Once the name is alright, they are back in (the IOC)."

But Brundage added that a two-day old proposal by Nationalist Chinese sports authorities to change the name to "Republic of China Olympic Committee" was "unacceptable."

"The word China has got to go," he said.

Nats Sign Minnesota Hurler For $30,000

Hart To Seek Title Fight With Jordan

CHICAGO (AP)—Garnet "Sugar" Hart sat in his dressing room, wiping from his face the blood of his latest ring opponent, and set his sights high for his future in boxing.

He wants to meet Don Jordan, the welterweight champion, right away.

"He and I could have a real fine time in the ring. I can whip him," the division's No. 1 contender said last night after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Isaac Logart in Chicago Stadium.

"We're still chasing Jordan for a title fight because there's no one else to fight in the 147-pound class," said Hart's manager, Marty Stein. "But if we can't get him right away, what about middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson?

"A battle of the Sugars. That would draw a half-million-dollar gate in Philadelphia," Stein enthused. "Otherwise, we'll settle for the winner of the Jordan-Denny Moyer fight, (July 10, Portland, Ore.)," he said. Moyer is ranked No. 4 among the welterweights.

Here are the official scoreboards from last night's bout: Referee Wally Brightmore, 48-44; Judge Frank Clark, 46-45; Judge Harold Marovitz, 48-41. The Associated Press had it 48-42 for Hart.

BOXING DEVELOPMENTS

Vargas Threat Told; Cops Doubt Leonard's Story

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Boxing figures appear before the federal jury in Los Angeles on June 23 as part of a three-pronged investigation of hoodlum influence in the sport.

In rapid-fire developments yesterday, the California Athletic Commission (1) heard a manager's report that he and heavyweight Reuben Vargas had been threatened with death, and (2) suspended the licenses of Manager Sam Boardman and his boxing son, Larry.

At Los Angeles, Police Chief William H. Parker reported boxing promoter Jackie Leonard wasn't slugged by hoodlums on June 3 but had blacked out in a fall.

But Leonard is standing by his story that he was hit.

"It's the only thing I can say," Leonard told newsmen. "In my mind, I was hit from behind as I closed my garage door, and hit again as I was down on my knees."

Last month Leonard told the commission that underworld characters Frank Carbo and Frank "Blinky" Palermo were trying to muscle in on the contract of welterweight champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

Local, state and federal agencies are cooperating in investigating the boxing situation.

MYSTERIOUS CALL

Bert Brodose of San Francisco, co-manager of Vargas, said a mysterious telephone caller last Feb. 10 said a contract for a return fight for Tony Anthony was being sent and:

"You'd better sign for that rematch or you'll find that bum (Vargas) and you both floating down the East River." Brodose said he received no such contract.

Vargas had outpointed Anthony in January at New York. Brodose was appearing before the commission seeking to have an agreement nullified under which Ralph Gambina of Los Angeles became a co-manager. The issue was postponed until the next meeting, July 8, in Los Angeles.

Fight managers Sam Boardman and Freddie Amoroso were subpoenaed to appear before the Federal Grand Jury.

FIGHTERS WITHDRAW

Boardman handles his son, Larry, of Marlboro, Conn., who withdrew from a match next Saturday night at Leonard's Hollywood Legion Stadium. Amoroso manages Art Ramponi of Oakland, who was to have fought Larry. Ramponi withdrew also, saying he is ill.

Boardman testified that his son had an injured hand and nose trouble and these were the only reasons he wasn't fighting.

Oakland promoter Don Chargin, who is pinch-hitting for Leonard at the Legion, said Gambina had been representing Larry Boardman in California. He said Gambina told him Sam Boardman didn't want his son to fight because "Leonard is a stool pigeon."

DENIES STATEMENT

Boardman denied the statement and denied knowing either Carbo or Palermo.

The commission suspended the Boardman license pending further investigation.

Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, commission chairman, pointed out that it had been testified the boxer needed a nose operation and "the suspension probably won't be as long as the recuperation period."

Jack Urch, the commission's executive officer, said the probe would continue despite the turn of events in the Leonard case.

"We know there's a racketeering influence, and we want to stop it," he declared after the hearing.

Brodose told the commission of signing the co-manager agreement last fall with Gambina and Frank Sinacola, business agent for Frank Sinatra. Brodose claimed he was promised $10,000 for one-half of his manager's share, but received only $500.

TWO-THIRDS PAY

California boxing law requires that the fighter get 66 ⅔ per cent and bans secret agreements.

Gambina's attorney, Jack Dahlstrum of Los Angeles, said Sinacola was to receive 16 ⅔ per cent for public relations and publicity services but hasn't collected on his contract.

Brodose said he signed the agreements Sinatra could help get better matches for his fighter but hasn't yet even met the singer.

However, since the agreements, Vargas twice has appeared on national television, against Anthony and again last May 20 when he lost to Eddie Machen. The managerial purse from that latter bout was withheld by the commission pending settlement of the controversy.

Rawls Seeks Sixth Victory Of Season

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Betsy Rawls went after her sixth tournament victory of the year today. The 31-year-old star was favored over a field of 25 other women pros in the second annual American Women's Open Tournament at Brookfield Course.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Rogers, Wagner Giants' Big 'Ifs'

By JACK HANLEY
1-J Correspondent

PITTSBURGH — Several "ifs" still plague the Giants and are adding to Bill Rigney's gray hairs.

Just when it appeared that the big "if" at shortstop had been solved and Andre Rodgers settled down, the rangy Bahaman booted four balls in the series with Cincinnati.

Fortunately, however, not one of the four errors was responsible for the loss of a game in that series. The four bobbles at Crosley Field boosted Rodgers' total to 15. The rookie may set a new record for errors in one season by a shortstop.

The law of averages finally caught up with Rodgers at Forbes Field when his 16th boot of the season cost the Giants that 11-inning affair which the Pirates won on Harry Bright's pinch hit three-run homer, 12-9.

Rodgers' error on a DP ball hit by Bill Virdon paved the way for three unearned runs of the five Pittsburgh scored in the eighth to tie the score 9-9 and send the game into the two extra innings.

IT'S QUESTIONABLE whether Leon Wagner's bat offsets the "if" he presents defensively in left field. Rigney must be thinking about using Wagner as his No. 1 bench man, but the temptation always is there for the Giant manager to start the slugging lefthander when the opposition pitcher is a right-hander, which most of the opposing moundsmen are.

Wagner's three-run homer in the second of the four Redleg games set the tempo for that 13-3 win. But his misjudgment of a left field drive by Johnny Temple on the very first play of the third game, coupled with a subsequent error by Rodgers, spotted Cincinnati two runs that ultimately were overcome in a final 5-3 score.

The same thing happened in the first inning of the final game with the Redlegs. Pete Whisenant hit a liner to left with Temple and Vada Pinson on first and second. In all fairness to Wagner despite his far from graceful fielding of the ball, it did take a freak bounce. It went over his head on one hop—and this time the two runs that came in were not overcome in the final 7-1 score that had Cincinnati on the long end of the count.

OTHER "IFS" involve Jackie Brandt and Bob Schmidt. Coming into Pittsburgh, both were below the .250 mark, Brandt at .248 and Schmidt at .238.

The nasal operation performed on Brandt during spring training at Phoenix cleared his chief breathing apparatus. Then, Brandt encountered trouble with pollen on the San Francisco peninsula. Whatever the cause, Brandt's batting has been in a terrific slump.. If he snaps out of it, Rigney undoubtedly will have him in left field instead of Wagner.

Schmidt's impotent efforts at bat may be traceable to a long, thin-necked, 28-ounce stick he has been favoring. Rigney has thrown this lightweight affair away a couple of times on Schmidt, hoping he would get accustomed to a fatter-necked and heavier weapon which the husky catcher is capable of handling.

There are still other "ifs," including the one constantly heard: if Joe Shipley only could get steady and reliable control of his fast ball and give the weak Giant relief pitching the kind of help it needs. That would solve a major problem, not that the other "ifs" are minor ones.

ALLAN WORTHINGTON and Gordon Jones are more middle-inning relievers than the kind of fireballers needed in the closing sessions when a game is threatening to get out of hand. And of these two, Jones has done the best job thus far although it was Worthington on whom the Giants were counting this season for the major relief duties. Remember, he was wooed with a substantial raise from his holdout in Alabama?

And the almost imponderable "if" presented by the virtually hitless bench of the Giants, who always had a belting bench in previous years, is still defying solution. The one bright spot in the dismal bench record was Wagner's grand slam homer two weeks ago in the ninth inning at Seals Stadium for a 6-4 win over the Dodgers.

Shot Top Attraction At Nat'l AAU Finals

By FRANK PITMAN

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Colorado, seldom in the big time track and field spotlight, jumps into prominence June 19-20 as host for the 71st National AAU track and field championships.

The event at University of Colorado's mile-high Folsom Field is the final proving ground for the selection of two topflight squads of United States athletes. They will compete against the Russians in Philadelphia July 18-19 and in the Pan American Games in Chicago Aug. 27-Sept. 7.

"The 1959 National AAU meet should be even greater than the one we had here in 1955," says Frank Potts, Colorado track coach since 1927 and president of the Rocky Mountain AAU.

The 1955 meet—Colorado's first try at entertaining a national track and field event—drew 21,000 fans. It was one of the best-attended AAU meets ever.

Official AAU fears that high altitude might hamper runners in the 1955 meet vanished with a record clocking in the 800 meter (half-mile) race. The first four finishers equalled or bettered the world record.

Pittsburgh's Arnie Sowell won by a hairbreadth from Tom Courtney of Fordham in 1:47.6. Billy Tidwell and Lang Stanley were inches behind. The mark is still the AAU record.

The 800 meter race vindicated Potts, who contended the thin atmosphere wouldn't slow down runners until the mile. Potts figures the smaller amount of oxygen in the air adds about 10 seconds to the miler's time but there is no effect up to that distance.

One of the top events this time is a match among the nation's three greatest shotputters — Parry O'Brien, Dallas Long and Bill Neider. All have bettered 63 feet.

O'Brien, 1956 Olympic Champion, holds the official record of 63 feet 2 inches set Nov. 1, 1956 in Los Angeles. Long, a freshman at University of Southern California, has a 63-feet 7-inch heave to his credit this season.

Most of the nation's current collegiate stars, along with AAU veterans, will compete as the even here follows the NCAA championships in Lincoln, Neb., less than 500 miles away.

While the big lure for the competitors here is selection on the teams for the Pan American and Russian events, several smaller groups will be chosen from the field to tour abroad during the summer.

Drake Voyage Topic For Historical Society

Robert H. Power, a member of the Solano County Planning Commission and co-manager of the Nut Tree at Vacaville, will speak on "The Golden Hind Entered the Golden Gate," at a meeting of the California Historical Society at 8 p.m. next Thursday at the society mansion, 2090 Jackson street, San Francisco.

"All those interested in the history of discovery are promised a challenging and stimulating evening," a society spokesman said. "To the present, (Sir Francis) Drake's movements in California are obscure. The finding of Drake's Plate of Brass on April 6, 1937, aroused international interest in Drake's landing but failed to clarify the matter of the landing site."

The society will celebrate the 380th anniversary of the first English landing on what is now the shores of the United States on June 17, 1579.

The Plate of Brass bears an inscription containing that date.

Some persons believe that Drake anchored his ship, the Golden Hind, off the shores or in an inlet of Drake's Bay in Marin, others think he sailed through the Golden Gate and landed on the Marin County shore. Others put the landing place farther north.

Power will speak on the thesis that Drake and his crew sailed through the Golden Gate.

The plate was discovered by accident by a picnicker at Greenbrae.

Committee Okays Liquor Ban Repeal

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation repealing a 19th century prohibition against the sale of liquor within one mile of California colleges has passed its semi-final test.

The Assembly Government Organization Committee approved and sent to the lower House floor Tuesday a bill by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) eliminating the liquor ban enacted in 1872.

County Planning Costs $66 Per 100 Persons

A suspicion that Marin County's planning department is busier than its opposite numbers in other counties was borne out this week by a cost survey.

Cost of Marin's planning department per 100 population is $66, according to a survey prepared by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

The average in five California counties with comparable populations was $56 per 100 population and the average for six larger counties (including Los Angeles County) was $27.

BUDGET AID

The cost survey was prepared at the request of the county board of supervisors and submitted to the board for study before adoption of a final county budget in July. Jensen recommended against a $2,400 grant to the planning department for consultant services during the 1959-60 fiscal year. He recommended a reduction in clerical staff. There are four clerks to serve the planning director, six planners and two draftsmen.

The cost of Marin's planning department was even higher when compared to population in the unincorporated portions of the county only. The cost averaged $106 per 100 population in unincorporated Marin compared to an average of $93 in the five comparable counties: Monterey, Ventura, Stanislaus, Tulare and Sonoma. Their total populations average 165,600 compared to Marin County's 147,870 estimated population.

Jensen commented that much of the population increase in the other counties has been within city limits.

FEE COLLECTION

Marin's collection of fees stood at a higher per capita total than either of the other two groups of counties surveyed.

The survey showed that Marin's county government requires more special reports and projects from its planning staff than is true elsewhere. More petitions for zoning amendments per capita are filed here. The same is true of zoning administration activities, except for investigation of zoning violation complaints. Jensen said possibly more attention could be given to complaints.

Wife Seeks Divorce From Builder Novak

Novato builder John L. Novak is being sued for divorce and for one-half of community property estimated to be worth more than a million dollars.

Mrs. Maria Novak, 34, filed the suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court through attorney Berwyn M. Rice. She charges Novak, 41, with cruel and inhuman conduct.

They were married in Virginia City, Nev., in 1949 and separated last January. In addition to one-half the community property, Mrs. Novak asks for custody of their children, John Jr., 9, and Jeffrey, 7.

Community property includes a home at Robert Trumbull Estate, three cars, stocks and Novak's business interests.

Twin Cities Auxiliary Installs New Officers

Mrs. Delbert C. Brown of San Rafael, a past state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was the installing officer for the recent ceremonies which seated new officers of Twin Cities Auxiliary Unit 313 in Larkspur.

Inducted for the 1959-1960 term were Mesdames Edwin Olmstead, president; James Green, first vice president; Ruth Monaghan, second vice president; Francis Fugate, recording secretary; Maurine Lynch, corresponding secretary; Albert Bryant, treasurer; Mildred Young, historian; Bryce Florence, chaplain; Emelda Bates, sergeant-at-arms; Albert Carstens, Oakley Dexter and William Wagner, executive committee women.

Assisting on the installing team were Mesdames Jean Lestenguet, Richard Brown, Ernest Johnston, Toby Pechner, Agnes Hansen, Ethel Greenwood and Joan Liebeskind.

Presentation of the past president's jewel to Mrs. George Conroy, retiring president, was made by her mother, Ruth Monaghan, past president of the Unit for 1954-1955.

The Auxiliary's district president, Mrs. Duncan Walker of Healdsburg, gave new officers their pledge of service to foster the organization's aims for the new year.

Other distinguished guests and visitors attending the formal ceremonies were Mesdames Henry Larrieu, district historian; Henry Sanborn, president of San Anselmo Unit 179; Ernest Johnston, district secretary; Richard Brown, State Auxiliary finance committee member; Fugate, state editor of the California Auxiliary News; Wagner, district president-elect; Greenwood, district secretary-elect; Lestenguet, district chaplain-elect; Florence, national delegate-elect to the Minneapolis-St.Paul called for August 24-27, and Mesdames Watson McFadden of Petaluma, and Kenneth Chaney of Larkspur. Surprise To Climax Open Door Club's Meet Tomorrow

An unusual and happy surprise will climax the variety program planned for the Open Door Club in Novato tomorrow evening in Trevitt Hall.

A covered dish dinner will be served at 7 p.m., and members and friends are requested to bring a casserole, salad, or dessert, and their own place settings.

At the executive board meeting of the club held last week at the Robert F. Merritt residence it was decided that representatives of the club will visit the Budd Heyde show "Listen Ladies" at KNBC, San Francisco, from 11 to 12 p.m., Wednesday, June 17. The visit will be made to assist in publicizing Novato's Western Week End, and the Open Door Club's presentation of old-time silent movies on Saturday, June 20, as a part of the community-wide program.

'Summer Shower' Brings Deluge Of Vacation Styles At Luncheon

"Summer Showers" were predicted for Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus luncheon honoring the Marin Chapter of Hadassah, and the weather man hit the nail right on a high-flying R and M cloud.

And shower it did; as delightful a deluge of vacation fashions as ever blew in on a westerly wind, each distinctly accessorized with the special R and M flair.

For the Marin Hadassah, summer showers also meant a shower of dollars, the result of Tuesday's enticing surprises; the dollars destined for hospitals in Israel to help purchase baby layettes, medical and surgical supplies and equipment continuing Hadassah's support of the young democracy.

Weather forecast for a fashionable summer included "Blue Skies" shining above a Josef and Rex hairdo, the indispensable necessity to take on any vacation.

Before the colorful cloudburst of "Summer Showers," Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, reminded the many attractively cottoned guests "every day can be fair and warmer; with R and M plus Josef and Rex, our prediction: a summer-wise you!!"

JUNE FORECAST

June forecasts included:

"Summer Showers," the mermaid way, Mrs. Howard Cohn Jantzened in pepper black lastex swimsuit, discreetly hidden under a long brass buttoned roman stripe terry cloth robe.

"Hot in the Valley," perfect excuse for a brown and white Hong Kong print Shaween sundress, and Mrs. Robert Roth under a matching parasol.

"Cool Along the Coast," for cool comfort, Mrs. Fred Horn in Tabak's eggshell sheath boldly splashed with black, an eggshell cardigan with black accents to chaperon.

"Gentle Westerly Wind," blowing from a full skirted pink shirtmaker of pure silk organdie by Tea Time; Mrs. John Levy causing the stir in Cathay's black cartwheel hat trimmed with lush pink hued roses.

"Blue Skies," to match the blueness of R and K's full skirted, bare-armed cotton, the blue returning in the velvet band of Mrs. Alex Pohoriles rough ripple brim straw.

"Fair and Warmer," when the temperature rises, Mrs. Irving Kaldore taking off the apricot cardigan to show David Crystal's gay polka dot sheath of apricot and white; a V-necked notched collar, the interesting detail.

"Sunshine at the shore," the reason, a demure marigold and white check dacron sundress to go its full-skirted, empired way to country cocktails with a matching cardigan over the shoulders of Mrs. Jerome Lerner.

STRIPED COTTON

"Foggy Til Noon," dispelling the gloom, Mrs. Joseph Land in Jonathan Logan's merry striped polished cotton; sky blue and sea green running a race from the full skirt to square neck.

"Full Moon in P.M." to shine on a Landes mink stole, Mrs. Philander Beadle and Teeca's floating chiffon cocktail dress toned from ombre of the flowing skirt to a draped champagne bodice.

"Summer Signals Ahead" will send Fashion Focus on a carefreeway next Tuesday to honor the St. Raphael's Mothers Club and present mothers and children heading for the vacation highway with Sarrae's, Bells Children's Shops and Junior Esquire as the highway fashion patrol. Lunch at the pool and a merry aquacade will begin at 12:30 with the Summer Signals flying at 1 p.m. Reservations are made by calling Rickey's.

SAN RAFAEL GENERAL

Mrs. Leiton Elder Appointed Chairman Of Public Relations

Clubwomen, through their volunteer work, perform invaluable services to their communities.

An outstanding example is Mrs. Leiton J. Elder, trustee of San Rafael General Hospital, volunteer leader there, and now public relations chairman for the entire hospital.

Her new post is considered important because a voluntary non-profit hospital, which San Rafael General became on Jan. 1, 1958, urgently needs community understanding and support, according to the board president, E. Francis Hore, who recently made the appointment.

As public relations chairman Mrs. Elder will coordinate the activities of the board, administration and Women's Auxiliary in presenting to the community the story of the 53-year-old hospital's progress.

A dozen years of organization work, started when she quit the business world, serve to equip Pauline Elder for her present tasks.

P-TA LEADER

As a Brownie Scout leader and as committee chairman in three P-TAs (Davidson, West End and E Street) and the San Rafael P-TA Council, Mrs. Elder worked primarily on activities connected with children.

During this time, too, her interests included the San Rafael Improvement Club, of which she was president for a year and on the executive board for seven; and St. Paul's Episcopal Church, where she was an officer in various women's groups.

When San Rafael General Hospital was re-organized on a non-profit basis last year, Mrs. Elder was asked to be on the five-member board of trustees.

MRS. LEITON J. ELDER

The only woman on the board, she has served competently as secretary for the past 18 months.

As a trustee, her interests naturally spilled over into other activities. With Mrs. Lawrence McNear and Mrs. Walter Lethbridge, she organized the San Rafael Women's Auxiliary of which she is currently vice president and staffing chairman.

Mrs. Elder's appointment to the post of public relations chairman logically correlates trustee and volunteer activities.

Becaues of the nature of the hospital, Mrs. Elder feels that her work at San Rafael General, both on the board level and with the auxiliary, is the most important that she has ever undertaken.

"It's a great responsibiliy," she says. "In a way, it is the culmination of my years in community and club work."

ASSETS

Pauline Elder has two major assets when it comes to managing her busy schedule: the approval of her family, and the ability to plan her time.

Her husband, who recently completed his 20th year in the air installation department at Hamilton Air Force Base, and their daughter, Judy, 13, and soon to be a freshman at San Rafael High School, think her career outside the home is important, and help her all they can.

Mrs. Elder finds it easy to manage a big house without household help.

"It's mainly a matter of setting, and keeping, certain days for certain things," she says.

Carole Jones, Ernest Leopold Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

The altar of the Mill Valley Community Church was decorated with white gladioli and blue delphinium for the recent wedding of Carole Avis Jones of San Anselmo and Ernest S. Leopold of San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Gordon S. Jones of San Anselmo and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Herta Leopold of San Francisco.

Officiating for the 4 o'clock double ring ceremony was the Rev. Gordon L. Foster.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white gown fashioned of lace with a high neck, long sleeves and fitted bodice. Accenting the waist was a taffeta cummerbund with a delicate flower motif of lace appliques and seed pearls. The full skirt ended in a chapel train.

Her elbow length veil of French illusion was attached to a pearlized orange blossom coronet. She carried a bouquet of white camelias.

Honor attendants of the bride were all Tau Kappa Kappa Sorority sisters at College of Pacific. Carol Blackham of Ely, Nev., as maid of honor, wore a blue silk dress with full skirt and scoop neckline and satin cummerbund. She had a veil secured with a blue satin bow and carried a bouquet of bachelor buttons and white carnations. Gowned as the maid of honor were bridesmaids Judy Barklow of Yreka, Carole Haddan of Alamo and Barbara Pollitt of San Francisco.

Guenther Leopold of San Francisco served his brother as best man, and ushers were Scott Jones of Mill Valley; Dick Fox of San Bruno and Bob Niccolls of Los Altos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jones wore a rose lace sheath trimmed in pink satin with matching lace bolero. She wore a pink hat and accessories and had a bouvardia corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace dress fashioned with scoop neck and chiffon cummerbund. She wore a beige cloche veil and matching accessories. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 200 guests followed the ceremony at the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club. Robin Orury of Stockton was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore an aqua silk suit with matching veil and accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The bride is the sister of Scott Jones Jr. of Mill Valley, and the granddaughter of Mrs. L. A. LeClair of Quesnel, B.C., and the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Ernest Jones of San Anselmo. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is a June graduate of College of Pacific in Stockton, where she was affiliated with Tau Kappa Kappa Sorority, and CSTA. She plans to teach in Orinda this fall.

The bridegroom was graduated from George Washington High School and the University of California. He is employed by Crown-Zellerbach in San Francisco.

The couple will take up their residence in Berkeley.

Vilma Bremer Bride Of Kenneth Morena

San Francisco's Star of the Sea Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Vilma Bremer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bremer of Kentfield, and Kenneth Morena, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morena of San Francisco.

White iris and standards of white gladioli were at the altar for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony with the Rev. Charles Durkin officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white organdie fashioned with an oval neckline and short sleeves. An embroidered band was styled at the bodice ending in a bow at the back with streamers to the hemline. Her full length veil was held by a headdress of orange blossoms, lace and pearls belonging to her mother. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Annette Fertig of Mill Valley, wore a gown of yellow cotton styled with a full skirt, oval neckline and tucked bodice. She had a daisy headdress and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and stephanotis with green streamers.

Gowned as the maid of honor were bridesmaids Susan Daniels and Nancy Hausle of Kentfield and the Mesdames Thomas Blum and Kenneth Hymer of San Rafael and Mrs. Joanne Babcock, the bride's cousin of Sacramento. College Will Need Public Support In Times Ahead

Of all the public schools in Marin, the public probably has the least information about and has taken the least interest in College of Marin.

Just off hand we would guess this state of affairs results primarily (1) from lack of parent participation through anything like a parent-teacher assn. and (2) from the happy fact that the college has been able to pay its way thus far without having to submit bond issues and/or tax increase propositions to the voters.

Some governing boards of school districts would be happy to have a minimum of public concern about the affairs in their jurisdiction; that way, they would enjoy a kind of immunity from public criticism.

But College of Marin appears to be finding out that public understanding and public interest are necessary prerequisites to needed public support.

Two members of the college board of trustees recently spoke out on the matter. They were Mrs. Elizabeth Deedy and George G. Washburn. They agreed that the public ought to be told the full story of the academic program at the college.

". . . some people think of the college as just a two year extension of high school," said Washburn. This is NOT true, he explained; "students can get as much education here in two years as they can at any other college."

This problem of community relations also was perceived by the accreditation "team" of the Western College Assn. which recently studied College of Marin. The team's report commented on the desirability of keeping the Marin community better informed about college needs and helping to make the college more responsive to community needs.

As the accreditation report indicated, enrollment at the college will soon mushroom as the post war crop of youngsters moves through high school and heads for college.

College of Marin faces the need for vast expansion in the years ahead—if it is to be ready to meet community needs. And community support will be necessary to finance expansion. Support can come only if the public is fully aware of the facts.

The college ought to begin at once an accelerated effort to get the full story of the college to the public, as Mrs. Deedy and Mr. Washburn have suggested.

SEA WATER TO DRINK

Converting sea water into fresh water has been the ambition of scientists for centuries. Their dream may soon become a reality.

A de-salting process has at last been developed which gives promise of being a "remarkable breakthrough."

Government officials announced that this new method has cut the cost of de-salting water from $3 per 1,000 gallons to less than $1. This compares to the present 30c most Americans pay for 1,000 gallons of fresh water.

De-salting costs will have to be cut further if it is to be practical on a large scale use. Experts believe this can be done and thus make de-salted water a stronger competitor to present fresh water supplies.

What an exciting challenge for anyone with the cause of humanity at heart! Christ Himself blesses everyone who seeks water for the thirsty.

It is a holy work, too, to have any part in searching for the vast new supplies needed for farming, industry and the many needs of mankind.

"Let all the waters that are above the heavens praise the name of the Lord."
(Psalm 148.4)

Thanks, O bountiful Creator, for the wonders that You have placed at our disposal.

Why? Columnist Asks One About Villains, And Gals In Swim Suits

By FRED CREAGH
For Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why? Why? Why:

Do women constantly tug at the tops of their bathing suits at a beach or swimming pool?

Why don't all men wear beards?

Why don't people learn to stop sticking their unlovely noses into the business of other people? My father used to tell about a man out West who lived to a prosperous old age simply by minding his own (censored) business.

Why don't more people look on marriage as an adventure instead of a 20-years-to-life penitentiary sentence?

Why are politicians?

Why are children all poets? Son David remarked the other day that a brief spatter of warm rain was like God sweating. I doubt if even the bishop would take exception to that one.

Why don't cats admit to being cats? Why do they prance like horses, slither like cobras dangle like monkeys and demand all the privileges of expensive women?

WHY IS IT THAT PEOPLE, who say they don't have time to read, watch television or go to the movies in their spare time?

Why do Americans, whether they're from Brooklyn or Seattle, seem to speak foreign languages with a Kansas accent?

Why does whisky make a married man see double but act single?

WHY ARE VILLAINS in stories always more interesting than nice neople?

Why do the doctors who warn you about lung cancer usually smoke more than you do?

Why do people who get you out of bed at 2 a.m. sound as if it's your fault that they dialed a wrong number?

Why, when you come right down to it, does anybody ever do anything?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Tamalpais Valley's new fire house, valued at $8,000 and built largely by volunteer labor, was slated to be dedicated at ceremonies at which a representative of the state fire marshal, Supervisor T. Fred Bagshaw and Assessor George W. Hall were scheduled to be present.

No relief was in sight from a three-day heat wave in Marin which sent the temperature soaring to 95 degrees on the city hall thermometer in San Rafael.

St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross opened a drive for funds to build a $40,000 expansion of the Community House. John S. Bolles was named chairman of the campaign committee.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County blooms held an enviable place in the Hall of Flowers at the Golden Gate International Exposition, according to Jean Boyd, co-director of the fair's floral "palace." The display attracted throngs of visitors.

More than 30,000 Marin adults were listed by name, address and occupation in a new county directory issued by the San Rafael Independent. Containing 686 pages, the book was the first comprehensive all-Marin directory ever published.

Steadily Rising School Costs Make Federal Aid Inevitable

THE REPORT OF the President's Science Advisory Committee, of which Dr. Killian was the chairman, was published about ten days ago. It had a general blessing from the President who said that he hoped it would be widely read and that it would stimulate a wider understanding of the importance of excellence in our educational system.

Among the crucial ideas that need a wider understanding is the conclusion of the report that "doubling our current annual investment in education is probably a minimal rather than an extravagant goal."

This does not mean, of course, that if we spent twice as much on our schools, they could automatically become twice as good. The sponsors of the report are among the most distinguished men in American science, and they make it clear that to improve American education very important reforms are needed in the recruiting of teachers and in the curricula which they teach.

What they do say is that these reforms will have to be paid for and they imply that no one is really serious about the improvement of education who does not want to think about raising more money.

THE BEST discussion of the problem of money and education is to be found in the Rockefeller Brothers Report under the title of "The Pursuit of Excellence." To see the problem clearly, says the report, we must realize that since 1870 "we have heaped upon our educators one of the most heroic assignements a society could have invented." The assignment has been to educate the whole mass of the American people. Between 1870 and 1955 our population has been multiplied by four. But the number of students in our public high schools has multiplied approximately 80 times.

In a period of three-quarters of a century "we have taken into the school system a greater proportion of our youngsters and we have kept more of them in the system longer than any other nation." Sheer size and mass are not the only, but surely they are the main reasons, why our educational system is so far short of being excellent.

EDUCATION ON such a scale, if it is to be good for the great mass and excellent for the very gifted few, is bound to be expensive. As of 1955, the most recent year for which the figures are available, the total spent in this country on education was 14 billion dollars a year. This breaks down into 9.4 billions for public elementary and secondary schools, 1.2 billions for private elementary and secondary schools, 1.5 billions for public higher education, and 1.9 billions for private higher education.

The President's Science Advisory Committee and the Rockefeller Brothers Report agree that the total of 14 billions will have to be doubled if education is to be good enough for the times we live in.

As the two groups which concur in this conclusion are composed of eminent, very highly qualified, and widely experienced men, we may assume that they know what they are talking about. Indeed, so far as I know, no one has seriously disputed their conclusion.

THE REAL QUESTION is how to raise the money. Here, we may begin by insisting that this country can indubitably afford to raise the money. From 1930 to 1957 the expenditure on education was more or less stationary at about 3.5 per cent of the Gross National Product. It has now risen to about 4 per cent. As the Gross National Product has risen since 1930, the amount spent on education has risen too. But it has not risen fast enough to keep pace with the rise in enrollments. Thus, in fact, less money is available for each pupil. There is, therefore, a growing shortage in our educational facilities, in classrooms, and in teachers and the like, to deal with our expanding population.

If we adopt the conclusion of the President's Committee, we should be prepared to spend, by say 1967, something like 30 billions. It is generally estimated that by 1967 the Gross National Product will be around 600 billions. Thus, the expenditure for education would rise from about 4 per cent, as at present, to about 5 per cent of the Gross National Product.

THIS PERCENTAGE looks small, but the real figures are big, and the most difficult question arises as to how these extra 15 billion dollars a year are to be raised. Most of us would prefer to have them raised locally. But we cannot be dogmatic and absolute about this preference.

In the past twenty-five years there has been a drastic shift in the burden of school support from the local governments to the state governments. Whereas in 1930 the state governments carried only 17 per cent of the load, by 1954 they were carrying 37 per cent. There is no use expecting or hoping that the whole new burden of costs can be borne by the states. For, as the Rockefeller Report says, "state and local tax systems are in some respects archaic," chiefly because of their dependence upon the real property tax.

There is no escape from the conclusion that if the new and necessary costs are to be met, if they are not to be ignored and neglected, we shall have to raise some considerable part of them out of Federal taxes. This is bound to happen, and the sooner we face up to the necessity, the more likely are we to be prepared to act with deliberation and with awareness of the hazards, and with wisdom.

Facts Don't Always Conform To Local Formula For Death Notices

MAYBE IT'S morbid, but death notices fascinate me. It is primarily because once a certain formula is adopted — as seems to have occurred in these parts — the formula does not always fit the facts.

One deceased gentleman, described as the "loving husband" of his surviving wife, was in fact separated from her years ago for sundry "unloving" reasons.

One may argue that since the death notices are paid for by the family that anything the family chooses to say is legitimate. It is legitimate — like advertising — but not always precisely truthful.

Besides occasional misrepresentations, the death notices usually are similar in their phrasing to the point of monotony. Is that a tribute to the person who has died?

All of this is by way of introduction to the obituary notices which I discovered on the front page (jumbled in with other paid advertisements) of the May 4 issue of the venerable London Times.

By some circuitous route it had arrived on my desk and I read with the eye of a connoisseur the following items:

BEETON—On Sunday, suddenly, and after a life of selflessness and courage, Mary Alice Beeton, of 6 Winchelsey Rise, South Croydon, late of Kumasi, the beloved wife of Hugh, and mother of David, and sister of Arthur, Edward, Howard and Norman Wagstaff. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CHATTIN—On April 30, at St. Thomas' Hospital, London, George Charles Chattin, F.I.Q.S., of Isham Road, Norbury, aged 64 years, dear husband of Bin and father of Ann. Cremation, 3:20 p.m., Wednesday, May 6, at Croydon Crematorium, Mitcham Road, Croydon.

CLARKE—On April 30th, suddenly, in his 52nd year, Alexander Clement Clarke, of Harcourt House, Cavendish Square, W. 1 and Court Lees Manor, Whitstable. Funeral arrangements to follow.

DAVIES — On May 2, suddenly, Edmund Hugh, darling husband of Phyllis Davies, of Leys House, Denton, Grantham. Funeral private. No letters, please.

FISH—On May 1, at Ashton House, Bath, Mary, widow of L. J. Fish, sometime Archdeacon of Bath. Funeral, Bathampton Church, tomorrow (Tuesday), May 5th, at 2 o'clock. No letters, please.

LONG—On 1st May, peacefully, at his home, Coed-Mor, Dolgellau, Merioneth, Major Aubrey Waithman Long, Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur, 6th Bttn., K.O.Y.L.I. (1914-1918), late Royal Irish Constabulary, Belfast, the dear husband of Cary Wenonah Long, in his 84th year. R.I.P. Funeral service at Llanaber Parish Church on Tuesday at 3 p.m.

SMITH—On Saturday, May 2, at 9 a.m., passed peacefully away, in her 81st year, Lady Ben Smith, wife of the Right Hon. Sir Ben Smith, P.C., K.B.E., for 60 years. Cremation, Wednesday, May 6, Porchester Crematorium, 2 p.m. Flowers to Drive End, Archery Lane, Fareham, Hants.

VAN PRAAGH — On May 2nd, peacefully at The Hermitage, Sandgate, Hilda, widow of Maurice Van Praagh. Much loved by all her family. Cremation at Charing, 12:30 p.m., to-morrow (Tuesday).

WALLIS — On May 2nd, peacefully, Winifred, dearly loved wife of Brevet-Major Kenneth Wallis, Longcross, Shaftesbury, Dorset, after 46 years of true companionship. Funeral private. Kind friends no letters please.

Congress Preparing To Study Influence-Peddling Ex-Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — What could be nicer for a retiring general or admiral than to get a job — paying up to $40,000 a year or more — with a company which sells some kind of military equipment to the government?

But the question Congress is going to ask now is: What does he do to earn his money?

ABOUT JULY 1 a House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) is going to start hearings digging into questions like these:

1. When a retired general or admiral gets a fat job from a company selling to the armed forces, is it strictly because of his executive ability and professional experience?

2. Or is he really hired as a lobbyist or influence-peddler to use his old friendships and contacts in the Pentagon for the benefit of the company which hired him?

There is a third, underlying question: Is a high ranking officer, still in the service, influenced in the selecting of equipment from a particular company by the prospect of going to work for that company when he retires?

HEBERT SAYS the picture is not all white and black — that many retired officers now with military equipment companies do a good, legitimate job because of their knowledge and background.

However he says he thinks more business in Washington is done on the golf links and over the cocktail tables than is ever transacted in the Pentagon.

But any legislation Congress considers to correct abuses — and Hebert expects to have remedial measures for Congress when it returns in 1960 — runs squarely into a problem of individual rights.

Many officers retire in the prime of life and, like nonmilitary people, have a right to make income in addition to their pensions — particularly in fields where their knowledge and experience should pay off best.

PENDING RESULTS of the Hebert investigation the House rejected last week a ban on such employment for five years after retirement. But there is a long history of congressional agitation about military brass going into private industry which does business with the government.

When Sen. Gerald Nye, a North Dakota Republican, conducted his historic investigation into munitions-making back in the 1930's, it was brought out that retired military brass had big jobs in that industry.

There is a difference between the Nye inquiry and the one to be made by Hebert.

The former had its roots in American pacificism and neutralism—this country was isolationist then — and the munitions makers were accused of getting fat by fomenting conflicts around the world.

There is no dispute now about American needs for heavy armament. The American economy is so tightly linked with defense production that a sudden decision to reduce armaments drastically might throw the country into depression.

When Boy Has Trouble Reading, Try The 'Let Him Alone' Tactic

Many of our sons have trouble learning to read. Eventually they succeed. But for several years the going is rough. Have you a boy in this group? Then you know the problem. Do you want to help him with his reading this summer?

First, take off the pressure. Your son has tried to read and failed. He has learned to hate reading, and to fear it. He has doubts about his ability. His emotions now block him. Probably they are the chief reason for his continued failure. Until he gets over the worst of his hatred and fear of reading, he can't learn.

So let him forget reading for a month or more. Let him do the things he does well. He needs success in large doses. Give him time to rebuild his battered image of himself.

Second, have a lot of very easy, very interesting reading material lying around where he can see it. Comic books, picture books, puzzle books, easy magazines. Don't force him to read them. Say nothing about them. Just make them available. Wait for him to leaf through them. Wait until he recognizes a word or asks you to identify it for him. If you don't push him he is ready. If you push he may never be ready.

By the end of the summer your son probably will have discovered that he can read after all. It will be the golden discovery of his young life. From then on his fears will diminish. With his teacher's help in the fall, he'll make fast progress.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this date in history:

In 1880, Jeanette Rankin, the first woman elected to Congress, was born near Missoula, Montana.

In 1927 Charles A. Lindbergh received the Distinguished Flying Cross from President Coolidge in welcoming home ceremonies after the aviator's historic flight across the Atlantic.

In 1939, the King and Queen of Great Britain tasted their first "hot dogs" at a picnic given by President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1950, Ben Hogan won the United States Open championship in a miraculous comeback after suffering near-fatal injuries in a car accident.

Thought for today: From the Book of Psalms: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

Clemency Appeals Governor's Worst Task, Says Knight

By RON BURTON

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, reflecting on five years and three months as chief state executive, said today the worst duty of the office is reviewing appeals for clemency from men sentenced to die.

"I'd bleed from every pore each time I went over the case," Knight said.

"You realize that all you have to do is scratch your name on a piece of paper—you do it as governor about 20 times a day anyhow—and a man can live. It's a temptation to commute a death sentence. A flick of my wrist, and I can let him breathe, I'd tell myself. And if you did, not many people would know.

PUBLIC UNCONCERNED

"Seventy-five to 90 per cent of the people sentenced to die are not well known, and their cases haven't been well publicized. The public really isn't deeply concerned with execution.

"Executive clemency appeals are strenuous and the toughest thing a governor has to face. The evening before the day of an execution isn't pleasant."

Knight said he commuted three death terms sentences to life imprisonment in the 20 to 25 cases he reviewed in office. He said he had some doubts about several cases but resolved them all and is proud that there never has been new evidence in any case which, as he says, he "let go."

Knight said pros and cons of capital punishment didn't enter his consideration of executive clemency although he favors capital punishment.

The former governor said he always made himself available on evenings and mornings of executions in case any new evidence were found to warrant a reprieve. He had a direct phone from his office to San Quentin Prison.

ACCESSIBLE TO PUBLIC

He said he was usually accessible to the public as governor. He would review each case, write his conclusions in longhand in front of the case file, sign it and make it available to anyone who wanted to see it. Sometimes a file would be given to a person who wanted to consult Knight on a case.

"I saw most of these people personally, but some I had to refuse to preserve my sanity," he said.

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT
A backward look

Knight, now living in a Los Angeles apartment with his wife, Virginia, took time out from a busy schedule of speeches and getting resettled to recall his inner man struggles with death sentences.

COURT OF LAST RESORT

"I was always deeply concerned over this great power in the hands of one person," he said. "You're a court of last resort. You can give back property but not life, and when you've rung this bell, you can't unring it. I never treated it casually, and while I'm not infallible, I've had no regrets about my handling of it. And I had three excellent executive clemency secretaries who researched each case.

"It was worse on cold, wet, windy nights I'd be sitting home enjoying myself, watching TV with my lovely wife and maybe having a glass of ginger ale or a coke. Then I'd look out of the window and see the wind blowing the trees, and it could become a bit eerie.

"I'd lie awake thinking about some cases. Once I was particularly disturbed about one (Burton Abbott) and asked a guard to get the file. He brought it back to the executive mansion, and I reread the entire thing — all seven or eight inches of it. I finished at 2 a.m. It was all circumstantial, but it was overwhelming.

"So I let him go."

Steel Talks Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has made an overture—quickly rejected by the union—that the industry drop its insistence on a one-year wage freeze if the union would make specific concessions on other contract terms.

MANILA (UPI)—Police today held four men suspected of cutting off the ear of a 19-year-old girl whose family was suspected of practicing witchcraft.

Big Marijuana Haul

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Police found a 134-pound cache of marijuana worth nearly a quarter of a million dollars yesterday in an apparently abandoned automobile.

Famed Priest Killed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The crash of a plane flown by an internationally-known Catholic priest killed him and three members of a Dallas family yesterday.

The victims: Father Ralph J. Diefenbach, 45; Ray J. Lockwood, 45; his wife, Katherine, 42; and their daughter, Patricia, 11.

Father Diefenbach was a chaplain with the late Gen. George Patton's 3rd Army in World War II. In 1945, the priest was assigned to return a religious relic, the hand of St. Stephen, to Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary.

Hungarians believed that no harm could come to their country as long as the hand of St. Stephen, their first king was in their possession. The hand, removed from the royal palace during the war, was found by U. S. soldiers in a warehouse near Salzburg, Austria.

Actor, Wife Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jack Beutel's wife got a divorce yesterday after testifying her husband "no longer wished to be married."

Gloria Bailey Beutel, 29, added: "He would go away with his friends and wouldn't come in until 2 or 3 a.m. He wouldn't tell where he'd been."

She said Beutel, 39, locked her out of their home more than once.

Mrs. Beutel was awarded custody of the couple's 11-year-old daughter, alimony equal to 25 per cent of Beutel's net income and $125 monthly child support.

The couple was married 12 years ago.

(He'll Be Back)

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—A dirty, luggage-laden station wagon was spotted bearing East under a sign that read: "California, Here I Went."

Steer Tramples Baby

MAYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—A 7-month-old baby was knocked from his carriage and trampled in the street yesterday by a stampeding 1,150-pound steer.

The frightened and enraged animal escaped from a packing house lot and made a mile-long charge through the streets, scattering pedestrians and vehicles before being felled by one of 30 shots fired by pursuing policemen. One officer was knocked down but uninjured.

The infant, Michael Searle, son of Mrs. Kenneth Searle, was taken to Maywood hospital suffering from a possible concussion and numerous cuts and bruises. His condition was listed as fair.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Dalai Lama, refugee ruler of Tibet, was 24 years old today. The living Buddha who fled his country in mid-March during a revolt against the Chinese Communist overlords, spent most of the day at prayer in Mussoorie, the hilltop resort in north India where he has taken refuge.

Hotel Raid Nabs 45

NEW YORK (AP)—A $76-a-day suite in Manhattan's well-known New Yorker Hotel was raided by detectives last night.

Officers said they found 45 men, laden with $50,000 to $70,000, busily engaged at dice tables; four "hostesses," who later were charged with loitering for prostitution; two bartenders providing refreshments for the guests, and the hotel detective, Samuel Cohen, acting as a lookout.

After the raid, made as the result of a tip, the 45 gamblers were booked on disorderly conduct charges. The hotel detective was named in a gambling count.

3 Children Die In Incinerator

RAY, N.D. (AP)—Three children burned to death yesterday in a trailer camp refuse burner into which they apparently crawled while at play.

The victims were Rodney Brenden, 5; his sister, Debra, 3; and Larry Dean Slater, 5.

Sheriff Leroy Lutz said investigation indicated either that the youngsters had set a fire in the metal cylinder with matches or that dying embers started the fatal blaze.

The children were missed about 10:30 a.m. and found about an hour later.

The incinerator, made of an old steam engine boiler, is about 12 feet high and three feet in diameter. A door opens into one side.

The burner is about a half block from the nearest trailer. It was a windy day, Lutz said, and cries couldn't have been heard. Parents of the dead children live in the trailer court.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Phipps, he lived at 30 Suffield avenue, San Anselmo, before the family moved to San Francisco. He will offer his first solemn mass June 21 in St. Cecelia's Church, San Francisco.

Airman Gets Jail, Fine For Drunken Driving

Harold Henry Hrifka, 32, of Hamilton Air Force Base must spend five days in county jail and pay $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

He was caught May 31 on Highway 101 near Terra Linda. Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court ordered both jail and fine because Hrifka had a prior conviction in January of 1956.

Hrifka is a member of Headquarters Squadron Section, 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Field.

Stanley Clarence Olson, 31, of San Francisco must pay $150 fine and drive only for work during the next 90 days. He was sentenced for his first drunken driving offense on Highway 101 May 24.

Reed Drama Class To Give Two Comedies

Two one-act comedies will be presented by the Reed School seventh and eighth grade drama class at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school auditorium.

Dramatic instructor R. Newell McMullen said the two plays, "Life O' The Party," by Donald Payton and "Bab Buys a Car" by Joseph Carlton, will culminate a year of instruction. Walter Beech and Terry Walden will play the leads in "Life O' The Party" and Jay Strieter and Susan Bekus will take the top roles in the other comedy. All are seventh graders.

The 40-piece Reed school orchestra and the girls chorus will augument the evening's program. Chris Bogios is orchestra director and Mrs. Marian Norberg will accompany on the piano.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from 7th and 8th grade children, Mullen said.

Gilbert Foerster and Ann Griffith have the assignment to give the class history.

Car Dealer Sues Phone Company Over Classified Ad

Larry Brink Motors Inc. of Mill Valley is suing Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Dexter Car Co. of San Rafael, alleging that an advertisement in the telephone directory hurt its business.

The Brink company alleges damages to the tune of $18,000 because the advertisement, in the yellow pages of the latest directory, says Dexter is Marin's only authorized dealer of Rambler and Metro cars. Brink says he too is an authorized dealer of those cars, and the advertisement hurt his trade.
